From Dick 313 Inaud PENNY ILLUSTRATED

No. 107.—Vol. III.

SATURDAY, JULY 1, 1865.

LONDON,

ONE PENNY.

STATE CONCERT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

NEW SERIES.

BY COMMENT AT BUCKINGHAM FALLOS.

By command of the Queen a State concert was given on Wednesday evening week at Buckingham Palace, to which a 'party of nearly 750 were favited. Their Boyal Highnesses Princess Helena and Princess Louise arrived at the palace from Window Castle in the afternoon, attended by Lady Caroline Barrington and Colonel the Hon. D. de Ros

The Prince of Wales, with their Boyal Highnesses Princess Helena, Princess Louise, and the Dake of Cambridge, conducted by Viscount Sydney (the Lord Chamberlain), and attended by their ladies and gentlemen in waiting, entered the saloon shortly after ten o'clock.

Her Royal Highness the Princess Helena wore a dress of crimson and white silk, handsomely trimmed with rich white lace. Headdress—diadem of torquoise and diamonds; necklace and carrings to correspond, and the Victoria Order.

Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise wore a similar dress. On the head a wreath of sweet peas and diamonds. Ornaments—diamonds, and the Victoria and Albert Order.

As soon as their royal highnesses entered the saloon, the concert commenced. Among the artists who appeared on the conston were: Midlles. Hma, Mursks, and Adelina Patti; Meedames Trebelli, Harriers Wippern, and Parepa; Herr Gunz, Herr Schmid, and Signor Graziani.

The performers, exceeding 160 in number, consisted of her Majesty's private band, aided by several instrumentalists of the Philharmonio Society, her Majesty's Theatre, and the Royal Italian Opers, the chorus being selected from the Operas and the Sacred Harmonio Society, Exeter Hall.

THE ROYAL PARTY PROCEEDING TO THE CONCERT ROOM, BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

Aotes of the Meck.

On saturday John West, charged with entiting the threat of Lydia. Wright, was examined on remard at the Town Hall, Brentferd The evidence addreed in support of the charge went to show that for a year said a helf the proscurity lived with the secured at I Twickenham and with his knowledge the was in the habit of leaving him at interest for the purpose of obtaining morey to add to the riscome. During that the stated that she would leave him for good, and shout a month since she accordingly left him. He not the ra sortingth later at a fair, and he induced her to orwent to visit him at his lodgings in Drewz-cottages, "wickenham She, for consequence of his entreaties, went to the place and found him in bed. She lay down up in the bid, and presently she felt the prisoner put his arm around her neck. She suddenly found abe was covered with blood. The "risoner had on be ritreat. He had threstened her previously. Lydia Wright, agod looking young woman, who was quite exhauster, and ould only speak with difficulty, gave evidence confirmatory of the above statement stating that the prisoner was quite notes when the wound was it flieted. A letter written by the prisoner on the 21st June, and addressed to "My dear Lydia" was put in. He ra'd that he had done the deed through having been put in. He ra'd that he had done the deed through having been for furteen days drunk. He had sent her "kisses" (do's on the wappt), and said that he would be a new man when he got his life it, but he was very weak from living on the prison dist. A police contable said that he found the prisoner sit ing behind the drev, and said.

Honey's throat. "The prisoner aid, "Y-u don't say as J know most in gabout it?" The prisoner aid, "Y-u don't say as J know most man about it?" The prisoner aid, "Y-u don't say as J know most man about it?" The prisoner aid, "Y-u don't say as J know most man about it?" The retioner, who made no defence but remarked, "It would not have happened only I had been drinking," was fively committed for tris!

A more sudachus b

firman to stop, the engine, tender, and three carriages had gone over her body. The jury returned a verdict that the deceased one misted zuicide while isbouring under temperary insanity. She was forty-five years of age.

On Saturday, while the hou chold troops were bring reviewed at Worm wood So ubs, two boys got in the way of a large brdy of eavairy in full charge, and before they could get off the ground or the troops could pull up they were knocked down and ridden over. One of them field shortly afterwards, and the other is in a precarious condition. Special attention was paid to the youths by order of his reyal highness the Prince of Wales.

An Oxford scholar, a clerk in the War-office, a professor of musis, and a prize-fighter, were brought before the Court of Bankrupey on Minday. The first, Mr. Goriley, was described as of Maple wood Farm, near Guildford, gentleman, and yesterday he came up for proof of debts. The creditors are entirely Oxford tradesime, who claim for small smount. The bankrupt status that he had been a student at Oxford for ten terms, but the misfortunes of his father, which prevented his proceeding with the necessary studys to easily the case, Mr. Reuse was described as formerly a circle of assigners and proof of debts. The bankrupt accribes his present application for relief to the loss of his situation in the War-office, and Minday was appointed for the or assigners and proof of debts. The bankrupt accribes his present application for relief to the loss of his situation in the War-office, and Minday was appointed for the order of debt in the county gool, kent Yesterday was appointed for proof of debts. The bankrupt accribes his present for debt in the county gool, kent Yesterday was appointed for proof of debts. Amongst the creditors are Masses in the bankrupt was saked why he had not filed his accounts. If have been all round the country," he replied; "I wint upon business and to see it to only not get a fight one." His honer ridge understand, and the bankrupt explained; "I wint upon REMARKABLE ESCAPE OF A YOUNG LADY.—The following extraordinary scape from injury, or possibly death, occurred to a young lady at the Sydentam-hill Station of the London, Chatham, and Dover Railway, on Saturday evening. While the train which is timed to leave the station at 8.25 was moving slowly towards the platform, a man d'ung to the handle of a first class courings, and ran or rather was dragged along until the train stopped. In his hurried passage he struck against several persons, and among them against a young lady, who, on her return from the rose show at the Crystal Palion, was writing to obtain a seat in the train. The young lady, owing to the unexpected collision, was tristed round and fell between the ends of two carriages, on to the metals. With great presence of mind she draw hersell under the hedy of the carriage, and these managed to pass through between the two wholes, and there has don'ted up under the feet hand, the second wheel passing over her clothing. Fortunately, a gentleman present on the platform. Mr. Gardese, chief draughtsman of the Patint-Bee, 186, Fleat-speet who withesessed the accident bugged her to remain quiet where she was until assistance credit by a late of the partiage codes youred to extrice e her from her perilous stustion. This, however, he was at first unable to do, as they wheel of the partiage roaded upon a portion of her draw. He man for other track to her draws and orth has from the wheel, and arranged her cut up his branks and keeps. It is a unique to the strike of the partiage roaded upon a portion of her draw. He man for other track to her draws and continue from the wheel, and arranged her cut up his best draws and continue from the wheel. Cut arranged her cut up his best draws and continue from the wheel. Cut arranged her cut up his best draws and continue from the whole in the partiage codes young to the strike the strike of the partiage of the pating to the strike of the partiage of the pating to the strike of the pating to the strike of the pating to the pati lady stand that she was not in the hast injustit.

Mareign Rems.

A Paris letter in the Independance says:—"The Empress will, it is believed, as usual, termina'e the season at Biarritz, and the Emperor will join her there. This idea finds support in the fact that the Queen of Spain will, in a month, go to St. Sebastian, where she proposes so stay some time, and take sea-baths in the harbour called Zarauz. However, great preparations are being made at the Hotel de Ville of St. Sebastian, which is being transformed into a princely residence with the ides, hat the Emperor and Empress of the French will come to visit her Catholio Majesty."

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Thomas Plokford, her Britannio Majesty's consul at Paris since the year 1834. He served in the Spanish wer, and was specially attached to the late General Sir Blohard Bourke. He was appointed vior-consul at Corunna in 1814, clerk to the consula'e in Paris in 1820, deputy to the consul in 1822, consular registrar at the embassy in 1832, and consul as stated above, two years later. The docessed gentleman, who was in his seven'ty-fire year, was greatly respected and esteemed by a large circle of acquaintances for his obliging and benevolent disposition.—Galignans. sition .- Galignan

THE CHOLEBA IN EGYPT.

Advices received from Alexandria state that 184 deaths had occurred in the hospital of that city on Sunday. The deaths from cholers up to the present time number 1,034 20,000 inhabitants are said to have left the city, but this number is doubtless exag-

AMERICA.

An indictment for treason has been issued at Norfolk, Virginia, by Judge Underwood (formerly a schoolmaster from New England), against General Robert E. Lee Underwood had gone to Washington to consult with Prestient Johnson about the matter. It is said, however, that the indictment will not be carried out, as the avrest of Lee, in orn idea ion of the terms of his surrender to Grant, night he regarded by the public and by foreign nations in a light highly unfavourable to the honour of the Government. Numerous journals, however, do adveate the arrest of General Lee; although, to the credit of the press, it must be stated that the proceeding is generally denounced in advance as a gross violation of good fath.

The recent On federate Secretary of State, J. P. Penjamin, is said to have arrived at Bermuda, and John O. Breckenridge and Screetary Trenhelm are reported to have escaped from the country.

THE TREATMENT OF PRESIDENT DAVIS.

A Washiagton letter in the New York Daily News repeats the complaint of the ill-triatment of Mr. Davis haying been disguised in femals apparel is now exploded, and only brings ridicale on those who believed it. It served its purpose, however, and probably not one in a thousand of those who heard the falsehood has since seen its contradiction. The inhuman treatment which Mr Davis has received, however, since his incarceration in the dungeons of Fortress Monros, deserves to be placed before the world in its true colours. I herewith send you the facts as I have learnt them. The conduct of Mr. Davis, ever since he has been imprisoned in the fortress, has been exactly what those who were his former associates in the United States' Senate would have expected from him. He knows that it is uncless for him to struggle against his fate, or to repine at the misfortune that has betallen him. He has, therefore, accepted his misfortune in a spirit of true Christin resignation. He has never given uttersnow to an angry sentiment, nor used language unbecoming in a gendeman. The man is to be pitied indeed who is credulous enough to believe that Jeffersen Davis railed at his gaolers or the Government, that he threw his food at the head of the attridant, that he knocked down two of his guards in succession, and that it would do no good to set thus, and Jefferson Davis has never for a moment forgotten himself or the position which he cocapies in the eyes of the world. At some time not far distant the scorets of his prison house will be revealed. Mr. Davis is entitled by the usages of nations to the treatment of a general efform and to the food and table service pertaining thereto. Every Europeau Government would have recognised that right, and mr. Davis koowing that it was his demanded it in firm but courteous language. He reluced to eat the coarse food brustally thrown down before him, and his right to proper food has since been grudglingly allowed. The placing of the manacles upon his limbs: san He refused to eat the coarse food brutally thrown down before him, and his right to proper food has since been grudgingly allowed. The placing of the menacles upon his limbs is an outrage for which there is no exouse. He was not violent; he did not knock down ei her one or two of his guards; he had done nothing affording the alightest prefext or provostion for such an outrage. It was done to gratify the most maliphan feelings of revenge and hatred, and it was not authorised by President Johnson. It is pretended that the brutal act was ordered by General Miles, and that it was sunctioned by kilegraph by Secretary Stanton. No resistance, except by words, was made to this indiguity. Who but a crazy man would have thought of resisting a party of men composed of an officer, a blacksmith and four strong soldiers all armed to the teeth, with eight more soldiers at hand? All these facts, I repeat, will one day be known to the world."

On Vegetable Charcoal.—Some practitioners of the old school, who have marked out lines of treatment for themselves, have freely suployed vegetable charcoal in various forms of disease. It has been given in consumption to the extent of a teapounful daily differed in milk. It has it such cares been given under the idea of its being an innocent anti-reprice. It has also been given under the idea of its being an innocent anti-reprice. It has also been given in clotera, dysentery, and used generally as an external agent to absorb unpleasant fluvia. In all these cases vegetable charcoal is of great service; but it becomes of greater service by triturating it in certain proportions with sugar of milk, when its inherent medicical properties, which are latent in the crude charcoal, are developed into a more active form, and when—it its various potencies—in the several preparations called carbo vegetabilis, it is so successfully employed by homeopathic practitioners. In these preparations Hahnemann pointed out its uses in restoring the blood to its vitalliting purity, in rousing the energy of the nervous system and in restoring to healthiness the muo us timing sof the body. Hahnemann pointed out its value particularly in eyepepia, and pain in the stomach after eating flutulence, do Nothing can prove the truth of the role enough the manner of the source of the so i self; then, however, it seems to act chemically upon the contents of the stomach and intestines, rather than dynamically upon the of the stomach and interines, rarner than cynamically upon the system, absorbing and neutralizing acidity and the grees of decomptition. We know not whether Mr. Bragg, of Wigmore street, the inventor of certain charcost biscuits—of with the have tested a specimen—be of home pithle 'procifyits's' or of that he has produced a very nice home constitution of allopsells stomaches, and many propert them for nonempathic potential.

where the states of the second continues to the least operated the second second continues to the second continues of the second continues to the second continues of the second continues to the seco ins-administration

POPULARITY OF GENERAL GRANT IN AMERICA.

A New Your letter of June 9 has the following:—"The great religious price of the week, the overwhelming segitation, has undustedly been the more than tropical beat. The men, women, and children of this metrorolis have abused Old Sol without siths; and your correspondent takes this opportunity to add his mite to the general grow! I am desirous of creaturing openly a state of temperature which is, to asy the least of it, suprecibes. The state of the state of Extraordinary Flight of Two Manufacturings.—Two brothers, who for many years have been carrying on a large business as woollen manufacturers in Gomersal, near Dewebury, have suddenly disappeared. The firm to which we allude is that of Messrs G and J. Blackburn, whose mercanitis operations have been principally with the home Government. On Thursday last one of the brothers took his departure for Dublis, having, as he said, a desire to see the Exhibition. The other partner started next day to join his brother, for he, too, should like to have "a peep at the Dublin Exhibition." By and by unfavourable rumours were circulated, and a person was sent to Ireland, who traced the fugitives from Dublin to Queenstown, from which port he ascertained they had embarked for America. Strangely enough, a day or two before they went a way they deposited a considerable sum of money in the bank; and left sofficient cash to pay the wages of the hundred operatives in their employ. It is believed they have taken with them several thousands of pounds, and a few weeks ago they transmitted to the United States about forty bales of goods, as they stated for a purchaser. The milis have been running all the week as if nothing had happened, but, of course, under the survey illance of the creditors. It is said that bills representing from 120 000 to £30,000 are running, at d the total Habilities are estimated at upwards of £60 000. The assets will it is feared, amount to very little. A Gomersal merchant will suffer to the smoont of £5000 and £13 000 are owing to three Leeds creditors.—Mancheten £5 007 and £13 000 are owing to three Leeds creditors-

Considers of Sciences Party Towns the Europeaned Macaness of south of Sciences and have the samples observed and have these samples and have the samples of science of faces work in a supprior makes. Like from which are deeper 148, Helman Loudes Macaness, the face of the samples of sciences and faces for the samples of sciences.

General Achs.

THE Queen of Madagasoar, according to a letter received in Paris, has begun to west crinciline. She inaugurated the new fashion by a religious ceremony, in which she took part, on the 15th of April last, near Tananariva. The novelty seems to have been favourably feedered by the population; but only the princesses of the royal family have been authorized te adopt it. The Queen has, however, made one exception in favour of the wife of Raimilaiarivony, her prime minister.—Galigmani.

WE have reason to believe that Dr. Jacobson has been selected for the vacant bishopric of Chester.

THE MUBDER OF A CHILD AND ALLEGED POISON ING OF A WIFE, AT WOOLWICE.

THE MURDER OF A CHILD AND ALLEGED POISON-ING OF A WIFE, AT WOOLWICE.

On Monday, Mr. C. J. Carttar, coroner for West Kent, resumed, at the Royal Oak Tavern, Woolwich, the inquiry respecting the death of Senjamin Jones, an infant, whose body was found in the Thames under circumstances that have given rise to a charge of wilful murder against the father, Thomas Jones.

The court was densely crowded, and the proceedings were regarded with great interest, as it was known that the accused was also obarged with the murder of the child's mother.

Louisa Beer, $2, Ragian-row, Piumstead, repeated the evidence which she had already given before the magistrate, and which was to the effect that the deceased was born on Good Friday, and that its mother died on the 30th of April, leaving the child to her cars On the 8th of June she took the child to the father's by his orders, and she never saw it alive after. She now added that the father had paid her 2s. 6d. a week for minding the child. When she objected to the child being sent to London then, as its clothes were tirry, he said, "Never mind the clothes; I will send it where there is another baby," and he asked her for a pint bottle of milk. Two days after she saw the milk unused in the cupboard, and she asked him why he had not given it to the child. He said, "Because the woman had the breast." When she siterwards, on the 14th instant, told him that she felt very uneasy, and if he did not tell her where the child was she would go to the magistrate, he said, "If you ask saids, and don't mind your own business, I will go to Mr. Hughes (the rolicitor), and see what he can do for you."

Mary Holman, 5, Raglan-row, Plumstead, said that the deceased's father ledged with her. He was a labourer at the dockyard. He had been in the workhouse previous to the birth of the child. Shortly after the child had been brought to the father, on the 8th of June, witness, at ten in the evening, went into the room, and, not seeing it, said, "Where is the baby gone?" Jones said, "It is gone to C

A juror asked whether there was a sister of the accused residing at Camberwell.

The Coroner said that the question was immaterial, for the accused could produce the baby it his statement was correct.

Henry Smith, a painter, said that on a Thursday night a short time since, either the 15 h or the 8th June, he was larking with two girls in New-street, Wool whoh. It was about ten colook. A woman came and told him that Jones wanted to see him ontside the Ship and Half Moon public-house. Witness continued, I went and saw Jones, who said, "Hallo, Harry, where can I get a boat?" I said. "What do you want of a boat at this hour of the night?" He answered, "My landlady has given me half-a-crown to go and drown some cats and dogs which I have now under my arm." I said, "It is very strange for her to give you half a-crown to drown cats and dogs at this hour of the night." Jones answered, "No, it is not. I may as well do that as nothing," and "I have drowned them in the water-butt." He said that he would not throw them into the river from the bank as there might be a bother; and he asked me for a piece of string to tie them up tight, and said that they would sink because he had put a flat from with then. I saked him to give me the iron for my mother, but he refused. We went down to the stairs and got a boat from a man for a pot of half-and-half, and we gave two boys a penny each to row it. We went towards the areas I I again asked him for the iron, and tried to get at the bundle, but he wend not let me. We rowed out into the river to the middle, and he threw the bundle in. We rowed away. He turned round and looked, and suddenly exclaimed, "Oh, good God I it has not sunk. Let us row back." I could not see it in the darkness, and I said, "No, no, I sm not going back to your — cats and dogs. How ashore, boys." Nothing more was said.

The witness stated that he was not quite sober at the time, and that he had no suspicion that anything was wrong.

Two boys, Alfred Brewer and Thomas Nolan, proved rowing a boat out in the rive

The court was then adjou ned.

THE EXHUMATION OF THE BODY OF THE CHILD'S MOTHER

Mr. Caritar, the coroner, accompanied by Dr. Stuart, Inspector Brown, and a body of police of the R division, proceeded with a jury to the picturesque churchyard of St. Richolas, Piamatesed, where the remains of Mrs. Mary Ann Jones, the mother of the murdered child, had just been exhumed. Large crowds were assembled, and looked on at the proceedings with some degree of awe. The deceased was much decomposed, and when Mrs. ticluman, the person in whose house she had lived, was asked if she could recognise her late ledger, she burst fato tears and said that she could not She ultimately, however, stated that she would be able to identify the shroud and the stockings by certain marks, and by the letters "M. A. O."

The coroner and jury them, proceeded to the Piume of Feath r.

The coroner and jury then proceeded to the Pinme of Feath ravern, in the village of Pinmstead, for the purpose of hearing the evidence.

Louisa Beer, a married woman, seld: I had a sister named Mary Ann Savage, who married Thomas Jones. She was twenty-que years of age, and had two children, a little girl sged three years, and an infant born on Good Friday. She died on the 30th of April, and was buried on May 4.

Mrs. Mary Holman said: I made the deceased's shroud, and put the flowers in her coffin. I can swear to the shroud. Her husband cut her on the heat with a receive was reare before her death.

I can swear to the shroud.

cut her on the back with a raget two years before her death.

The coroner at this stage adjustmed the inquiry for the medical evidence, and to give time for a chemical analysis to be made of the stomach and viscers of the deceased.

stomach and viscers of the deceased.

During the afternoon the accured, Thomas Jones, aged 23, was brought up on remand before the magistrate at Woodwich. He is an intelligent-looking young man, and made no statement whatever. The evidence taken was not so full as that given before the coroner's court. The prisoner was remanded for a week.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Journal de Geneva says:—"The Prince of Wales made his first official pun the other day. At the dinner he gave to Count Lugrange he wore a cravat with the colours of the berby. 'This is an additional tie between France and England,' he said to the count. In English, its signifies both

AUDACIOUS ROBBERY AND ATTEMPTED MURDER AT EDMONTON.

AUDACIOUS ROBBERY AND ATTEMPTED MURDER AT EDMONTON.

Charles Demontier, calling himself a sailor, was placed at the bar, on remand, before a full bench of magistrates, at Edmonton, charged with stabbing Police-constable Wilson, 260 N, with intent to do him grievous bodily harm, and with stealing a quantity of jewellery at the Cock Inn, Hounsfield, Edmonton.

Mr. Pitman, solicitor, defended the prisoner.

Mrs. Sarah Coombes said that she was the landlady of the Cock Inn, Hounsfield, and that day forting the prisoner, accompanied by another man, came to the bar and asked to be served with some gin, and when they had got it they walked into the pariour. After they had been there for some ten minutes they asked if witness had a skittle-ground, and were told that she had not. They then asked to be shown into the garden, observing that they "wanted to kill an hour or two." The servant showed them into it, and then left them. Shortly afterwards she went upstairs and immediately ran down sgain, saying. "There is a man under Sarabis (witness' adagater's) bed." There was a great neste, and witness saw the the man jump out of the widow and run as hard as he could across Chappell's field. The witness identified a gold chain, a gold brooch and locket, and two gold rings as her property. They were sate in the drawer in her room on the moraing in question. The cashbox produced was broken open, and removed from another bedroom to that to which the prisoner was found.

Mr. Thomas Grant said that about three o'clock on the afternoon in question he saw the prisoner running as hard as he could, and followed by a policeman in plain clothes. That was in Snow Park. The prisoner held an open knife in his right hand, and he called out to the officer, "Let me alone, or you shall have this into you. Mind what I say." With his left hand he throw was well-dressed, active, powerful man, and it is said that he served during the late war in the Confederate army. Wutching his opportunity he walked the best of the object of the chance, and see fend my liberty."

Mr. Pittman said that the prisoner would reserve his defence.

The Chairman (Mr. Busk) said that the prisoner was fully committed on both charges to take his trial at the Central Criminal

HOW TO BULE A WIFE.

In the Divorce Court was recently heard a case Richardson v Richardson. Mr. G. Browne for the petitioner; Dr. Spinks for the respondent.

respondent.

This was a husband's petition for judicial separation on the ground of cruelty. The respondent pleaded a denial of the charge The petitioner is a sculptor, living in the neighbourhood of darewood-square, and at the time of the marriage, which took place at St. Stephen's Church, St. Pancras, in January, 1859, he was a widower with six children, five sons and one daughter. He had been acquainted with the respondent for three years previous to the marriage, and she had also acted for some time as governess to his children. The marriage was a most unhappy one; the daily life of the parties, as described by the potitioner, being one of almost continuous storm. He stated that the respondent was addicted to habits of intemperance, that she frequently smashed all the crookery in the house, and that she always professed a great hatred for her sex, and always showed it in every possible way. (Laughter.) Cross-examined by Dr. Spink: Were you ever as excited as you describe your wife to have been? Petitioner: Never.

Did you ever consult Dr. Winslow as to the state of your mind?—No, but my wife brought him to my bedside, and I should have liked to have given him a good thrashing. (Laughter.)

Was not the main cause of your quarrels that you interfered with her domes it management of the house?—No; the fact is, she had no domestic management. (Laughter.) She was all extremes, and it was only when she got into those states that she broke out into these "ones." (Laughter.) She has some extraordinary points.

His lordship: What do you mean by extraordinary points? This was a husband's petition for judicial separation on the out into these "caes." (Laugh'er.) She has some extraordinary points.

His lordship: What do you mean by extraordinary points?

Petitioner: Well, variations of temperature (laughter) and that kind of thing. (Laughter.)

Dr. Spinks: Did you not draw up conditions before marriage as to the manner in which you should live?—Petitioner: We did (laughter), and I regret to say they were not observed.

Dr. Spinks: Is not that the document?—Petitioner: It is.

The document was here produced. It was in the form of a letter from the petitioner to the respondent, was dated the 10th January, 1859, and was signed "Your loving and affectionate Edwardo;" and subjoined it set forth certain conditions which, ander forfeit (never paid), were to regulate the conduct of the two contracting parties—money to be paid quarterly or monthly; household matters to be left to the respondent; business to petitioner, but petitioner to market, respondent not being "up to the mark;" petitioner to be satisfied with the domestic arrangements when conducted with expansive and comfort (alleged failure in both); no completing viting expansive to be observed; no quarrels, and, children, but love and kindgers to be observed; no quarrels, and, conditions the contiling an extensive of market, respondent calleged failure in both); no completing a market, respondent parties, and, children, but love and kindgers to be observed; no quarrels, and, conditions the presence of the children, but love and kindgers to be observed; no quarrels, and, children, but love and kindeses to be observed; no quarrels, and, above all, punctuality at meals (a condition shamefully violated). The character of the conditions, combined with the reading of them by the petitioner, who whilst doing so, indulged in a running commentary on them, excited considerable merriment in

Among the other witnesses salled was Inspector Simms, of the John-street sistion, who stated that he had frequently seen the respondent drunk, and that she has been looked up three times. His lordship, who had in vain suggested an arrangement, observed that the case amounted to this—that the nearement was a woman of intemperate habits, and that the usual results followed It was not the function of the court to relieve parties under such intemperatures. If they could not live in decent confort, they shalled circumstances. If they could not live in decent comfort, they should separate by agreement

Petition dismissed.

ELOPEMENT IN HIGH LIFE.

IN the Ball Court recently was tried a case. Trevan v Cavendish; it was an action to recover the sum of £976 94 6d. The defendant pleadel never indebted, except as to £876 9s. 6d., which was paid into court.

Mr. Karslake, Q.C., and Mr. Murphy were counsel for the plaintiff; Mr. Manisty, Q.C., and Mr. Hodgson were counsel for the defendant.

It appeared that the plaintiff is a surgeou of great eminence in

It appeared that the plaintiff is a surgeon of great eminence in Cheshunt-street, Belgrave-rquare; and the defendant is the son of General Cavendish. The plaintiff in 1850 was appointed medicat attendant to the defendant and his wife, Mr. Cavendish having in that year married Lady Eleanor, third daughter of the Earl and Countess of Clare. On the 2nd August, 1864, the defendant, being in want of money, sent Lady Eleanor from Bilverlands, near St. Leonard's, to the plaintiff, who advanced the sum of £500 upon the joint and general note of the defendant and his wife. The money, it was alleged at the time, was required to furnish Lord Gordon Cecil's house, his lordship having married Lady Eleanor's half-sister. The money was paid into Child's back to the ordit of Lady Eleanor. In November, 1864, the plaintiff advanced a further sum of £200, and in December, 1864, Lady Eleanor came to town and applied for another £100, which was advanced; both the latter sums being also paid to ber ladyship's credit at Child's. In February, 1865, General Cavendish was ill, and whilst the plaintiff was in attendance he heard for the first time that Lady Eleanor, who had three children, had eloped with Lord Cecil Gordon, her brother-in-law, and the father of ten children. Upon that the plaintiff communicated with the defendant, and the result had been the present action.

The plaintiff was called, and deposed to the above facts, and in all the second of the second can be a sum of the content of the plaintiff was called, and deposed to the above facts, and in all the second can be supposed to the above facts, and in all the second can be a supposed to the above facts, and in all the second can be supposed to the above facts, and in all the second can be supposed to the above facts, and in all the second can be supposed to the above facts, and in all the second can be supposed to the above facts, and in all the second can be supposed to the above facts, and in all the second can be supposed to the above facts, and in all the second can the present action.

The plaintiff was called, and deposed to the above facts, and in a 161tion he said: When Lady Eleanor came to him to berrow the £500 he objected to lend the money without the defined and a said than both said the providers and the said the s The plaintiff was called, and deposed to the above facts, and in a lettion he said: When Lady Eleanor come to him to berrow the £500 he objected to lead the money without the defendant is seen he and they both signed the premissory note for that amount. He aren he did not seen he and the defendant in January, February, and March, and he resisted professional letters from Lady Eleanor during that time. When to communicated with the defendant after what General Cavendish told him the defendant said that his cicums ances were but and, although he had sold his carriages and horses, the proceeds would be small. He intended also to dispose of his own forming and Lord Ceoil Gordon's, when he would give him plaintiff as much as he could. Defendant produced a sub-dule of his debts, and amon, at them were the sums of £500 and £200. Defendant asked him if there were any more, and plaintiff informed him of the advance of the £100, and that he had a demand for professional services to Lady Eleanor. He added the £100 to the sub-dule, and a day or two after he informed him, as requested, that £100 was advanced on the 5th January, and that the defendant placed it opposite the amount in the schedule. Defendant said there would not be much left for him, but he hoped he should be able to save sufficient to hive upon abroad. His professional charges were abour £150. On the 13th March he had only the defendant's security for the £500, and and he drew a promissory note for £451 9s 63, which in; uded the £200, £100, and his professional charges were abour £150. On the 13th March he had only the defendant's security for the £500, and he spointed a meeting with his solicitor hat he he doed he choose in the first consulting him. He told defendant that he did not consult his solicitor shands, and he did not like to sign it as an acknowledgment of the debt in case one or other of them died. Defendant looked over the items, and said he hoped he (plaintiff) did not think he was going to behave dishonourable, and he appointed a meeting with the plantiff without first obtaining the husband's assent, he could not recover.

Mr. F. W. H. Cavendish, the defendant, deposed that he never authorized his wife to apply for the £100 loan, and he knew rothing about it until after the elopement. The endorsement Childs and Co. on the £100 cheque was not in his handwriting. He came to town on the 2nd of January (the cheque was dated 5th of January), and he remained in town until the 9th of January. Lady Eleanor did not accompany him to town. She eloped on the 2nd February, and he came to his father's in town on the 6th. As the plaintiff was his most intime's friend, he consulted with him about his pecuniary affairs. He told the plaintiff that he understood his wife har sold some of her jewellery at his suggestion because they were in want of money, and she had given up going into society. When plaintiff said, "Of course, you are aware that I lent her £100," he expressed his astonishment and regret. He did not think that anything passed about his making it good. On the 13th March, not being able to cay the £200 as he had promised, he mentioned it to the plaintiff, and expressed his regret that in consequence of pressing demands, he had not been able to pay him; but if he would kindly wait a few days he would do so. Plaintiff then pulled out some papers, including the cheque for the £100 and he account, and saked him to sign a promisery note. He told the plaintiff that as his affairs were in the hands of his solicitor he could not do so. He promised to sign the note, broanse he did not know how far here as the solicities, including the £100 lean to his wife, to show him that he had not forgotten her. if he was liable for the latter sum. He had also put down £100 for professional charges. The words "private loan" against the £100 hean to his wife, to show him that he had not forgotten her. if he was liable for the latter sum. He had also put down £100 for not six with the money was to be spent in farnishing Lord Occil Gordon's house; he could not say whether it was of recover.

Mr. F. W. H. Cavendish, the defendant, deposed that he never

from 1861 to 1865
The jury returned a v. rifet for the plaintiff for £100 beyond the sum paid into court.

Suicide is a Public-House.—On Tassday an inquest was held in the City-road, on the body of William Braddock, aged thirty-four years, a hot-presser, who had seen much foreign service, and who of late was looked upon as not being right in his head. On Saturday morning he was found in a closet of the Windmill publichouse, Windmill-street, with his throat out, quite dead, and a limit by his side. The jury returned a verdict of "Suicide while of much and a limit of the cound mind". by his side. The jury returned a verdict of sound mind."

SUMMER EVENINGS ON THE THAMES.

SUMMER EVENINGS ON THE THAMES.

SUMMER EVENINGS ON THE THAMES.

AFTER five or six o'clock in the evening, the time of closing many of the Oity houses of business, there are, of course, a large body of clerks and others who then get a few hours to breathe the fresh air after a day's toil in confined offices, warehouses, & Some make for the parks, others to the suburbs of Loudon; but not a few simply turn down the nearest outlet to the Thames in order to get on board the "penny steamboats," where, with pipe in month, they take two or three trips up and down the river during a couple of hours. This is not only a cheap, but it is a pleasant and refreshing way of spending an hour or two of an evening. There is always something or other to attract the eye: the passing steamers, the heavy-laden barges, the progress of the new constructions—the bridges and embankment—all form subjects to muse and ponder over. The pepular boats are the "Citizens" and those termed the "Express." An engraving of one of the former we give above. Those who have not tried to spend a summer evening on board these boats we strongly advise to do so.

SCENE ON THE BOULOGNE SANDS.

WE have, in previous numbers, given scenes and sketches of Boulogne, the favourite continental resort of English tourists or short pleasure-seekers. Most of those scenes have savoured more or less of the comic element. The engraving which we give below treats of the sands at Boulogne in a far different manner. It is from a water-colour drawing by Mr. John Absolom, and a more artistic sketch it would be difficult to meet with. The countenances are all most expressive, and present to the mind a quistude and contentment quite charming to look upon. The little shoeless fisher-boy and girls have evidently won upon the sympathies of paterfamilies, and the well-known espacious pocket of the representative of John Bull is being cpened for their especial service, while the daughters of the benevolent old gentleman look on with a varied expression of interest. The shoe and stockingless fish women, too, are intent upon the scene, and form, upon the whole, a picture of great merit.

MIDSUMMER'S EVE.

WHETHER Mr. Kenny Meadows went to sleep one Midsummer's eve and had the nightmare, and got up in the morning and sketched off the visions which were presented to him on St. John's Eve, we will not pretend to say; but certainly he has presented us with a ploture (see page 41) which in our sober 'senses, we shall not attempt to describe. Look at it in what corner we will there is some quaint hobgoblin or mysterious fairy starting out; and if such were his dream, we can well imagine the perspiration rolling off his face on a hot June night, and his ultimate kicking off the bed-clothes as the early dawn drove these demons back to their own dark retreats. He has had, however, his revenge; for should any of his persecutors but look upon his picture, we very much doubt if they would visit him again.

Midsummer's Eve, or rather the Summer Solstice, has been celebrated throughout all ages by the lighting up of fires; hence these ceremontals in our own country on St. John's Eve, from the earliest times of the Romish Church to the present century.

In the north of Ireland Midsummer's Eve is a great event. Penance is done in every form and fashion. Men proceed up the hill dedicated to St. Patrick on bare knees, some carrying huge stones; others kiss the ground, cross and bless themselves; the wells are frequented by the lame, and blind, and suffering, who believe that by washing on this night they will be cuted.

In London the ancient custom was that of setting the watch on St. John's Eve, and the ringing of the curlew bell—customs that were continued to a comparatively modern date. At Nottingham the setting of the watch was continued to the reign of Charles I. At Ohester, according to records in the British Museum, the sfair was one of great moment. In fact, nearly every country had a peculiarity in celebrating St. John's Eve, more or less superstitious.

Among the arrivals in England by the Delhi were nizeteen Japanese youths. They are the sons of Japanese gentlemen, and have been sent to England to be educated as physicians, en-

SCENE ON THE BOULOGNE SANDS (From a Drawing by John Absolom.)

GENERAL TOM THUMB.

GENERAL TOM THUMB.
GENERAL TOM THUMB, with his party, had the honour of appearing at Windsor Castle on Beturday last, before their Royal Highnesses Princess Louise, Princess Beatrice, and Prince Leopold, and the ladies and gentlemen of the household. The general and his mimic party are about taking their departure frees London, and those would see them, perhaps for the last time, should avail themselves of the entertainments which they are now giving in the suburbs of the metropolis. We give an engraving of General Tom Thumb in one of his favourite characters.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEED-INGS.

INGS.

In the House of Lords, the Earl of Devon moved the second reading of the Roman Catholic Oath Bill, the object of which is to relieve Roman Catholic members from taking certain caths repulsive to their consciences, and said he sincerely hoped that, by passing the Bill, their lordships would remove the last disability which now oppressed their Roman Catholic fellow subjects. The Earl of Derby moved as an amendment that the Bill be read a second time that day three months. In taking this course, the noble earl observed that he was schuated by a strict sense of duty, believing that it was neither wise nor expedient at this moment, and under present circumstances, to adopt a measure, the effect of which would be to subvert—not a compact, but one of the leading principles of the Catholic Emancipation Act, which had been accepted as a fall, satisfactory, and complete arrangement of all difficulties. The question at issue was neither personal nor social, but of high political importance, as a full, satisfactory, and complete arrangement of all difficulties. The question at issue was neither personal nor social, but of high political importance, and should be decided only by that which was for the good of the emptre at large. Always ready to defend the rights of the Ohuroh of which he was an attached member, his first speech in parliament was delivered in support of that Pretestant establishment in Ireland which now appeared to be a mark of attack; but among his earliest votes was also one in favour of relieving his Roman Oatholio fellow subjects from all those restrictions and incapacities which pressed unjustly upon them. He hoped, therefore, his opposition to the Bill would not be attributed to unreasoning bigotry or a hostile feeling against the Roman Catholio Church. If the Government would take up the question and prepare an oath which all classes could take without injury to Protestant institutions, he would willingly assist them; and if they would give such a promise then he would abstain from asking their lordships to divide upon this stage of the Bill. But he could not consent to any alteration of the costs which did not provide for the security of the Established Church in Ireland and the maintenance of the property of the Church. Earl Bassall was of opinion that the existing caths afforded no security to the Established Church which could not be given in a less objectionable form. All members of parliament ought, in his opinion, to be placed upon a footing of equality, and after entering parliament should have the power of voting according to their conscientious convictions. He regarded the oath as contrary to the intentions with which the Emancipation. Act was framed, and certainly as contrary to the spirit of the age. The best course was to give to Roman Catholics full and just liberty, and to rely upon the Protestant feeling of the country and the conviction of parliament as to what was good for the country and essential to the maintenance of religion and property. The Earl of Harrowby opposed the Bill. Earl Grey supported the Bill on similar grounds to those stated by Lord Russell. Lord St. Leonards, Lord Chelmsford, the Marquis of Clanricorde and Lord I yveden supported the Bill. Up a division the recond reading war egatived by 84 to 63; being a majori y of 21 against the Bill, which was iterafore lost.

GENERAL TOM THUMB.

In the House of Commons, Sir A. Buller took the oaths and his seat for Liskeard.

HENLEY ROYAL BEGATTA.

WE give below an illustration of the principal race at this annual aquatio meeting, which opened on Wednesday last. The following was the programme of the two days' sport.—Grand Challenge Cup: The London Rowing Club, the Eton, the Kingston, and the Third Trinity, Cambridge.—Ladies' Challenge Plate: Eton, Radlery, and Cambridge.—Stewards' Challenge Cup: London, Kingston, and Cambridge.—Stewards' Challenge Cup: London, Kingston, and Cambridge.—Tow' Challenge Cup: Hondon, Kingston, and Cambridge.—Tow'. Challenge Cup: Honley Bost Club and Henley Grammar School.—Silver Goblets: Pair-cared race.—District Goblets, and Diamond Challenge Sculls. There was the usual accommodation for the public, by special and other trains put on by the Great Western for the coossion. The attendance was large, and the different races were very well contested.

The Great Eastern has been awakened from her long trance, and has made the first step on her voyage to America. On Saturday she left her moorings in the Medway, moved out from the shallow waters of Sherness, and steamed forth majestically into the estuary of the Thames. A voyage of seven miles in smooth water, on a sunny June morning, may seem a very trivial incident to people who do not fully realize the difficulties of the undertaking on which the big ship is at present engaged; but it was not in reality quite so easy of accomplishment as might have been at first supposed. In her present trim the Great Eastern draws thirty-two feet of water. With this draught she could just first in the channel of the Medway, but there was very little room to spare between the bottom and her keel, and it was only while the abip lay exactly along the channel that she could first at all. When first brought into the berth she has just quitted she was in very light trim, and could safely be allowed to swing to her anchors; but as she settled down into the water, under the enormous weight of the Atlantic cable and the tanks which contain it, she would have taken the ground if she had not been moored atem and stern in a direction coinciding with the channel of the river. To take her out past the shoals lying off Sheerness was consequently a delicate task. It was necessary to wait for a spring tide, and if the wesher had been unfavourable both on Satorday and Sauday, the departure of the vessel must inevitably have been portponed. She could not have left the Medway until the next spring tide, and she could not have begun to coal till she had reached her present annohrage. Her voyage would therefore have been delayed beyond the time which Captain Anderson has carefully chosen as the best season for laying the cable. Now that she is "over the bar" and in deep water, no delays are to be feared.

that she is "over the bar" and in deep water, no delays are to be feared.

A smart breeze from the northward, which was blowing during the early morning, entirely moderated as the hours passed by. Had it increased in strength instead of declining, it might have been impossible to carry out the ship; for her vast sides offer such a suitage to the settle of the wind, that navigation in shoal water is not very sale for her if it is blowing hard. As noon approached, the barges and landing-stages lying a ongside the ship were let go and floated away, and a little fact of attendant steamers assembled round about her; for a ship like the Great Eastern does not lift her anohor and steam away by herself, like a common passenger packet. The state and dignity of the largest and most famous vessel in the world are duly maintained on such an occasion by the presence of tugs to serve her in care of need, and yachts to look on in respectful admiration. On Saturday, also, her Marine Highness was preceded by the Porcupine, a beautiful paddle steamer belonging to the Government, and employed as a surveying vessel at the emess; and the Admiratry yacht Vivid followed in her wake.

At a quarter before twelve everything was ready for a start.

At a quarter before twelve everything was ready for a start.

tion On Saturday, also, her Marine Highness was preceded by the Porcupine, a beautiful piddle steamer belonging to the Government, and employed as a surveying vessel at cherness; and the Admiralty yacht Vivid followed in her wake. Altogether, including a crowded excursion bost from Ohatham, seven steamers attended the ship to the Nore.

At a quarter before twelve everything was ready for a start; steam was up in all the beliers, and wreaths of smoke curied easily steam was up in all the beliers, and wreaths of smoke curied easily from the four funnels, floating away to starboard on a gentle breeze, which was not sufficiently powerful to inconvenience the movements of the ship in the least degree. Subordinate officers were placed at intervals along the deck, so that orders could be quickly transmit ed either forward or att, and word was passed to Captain Anderson on the bridge that all was clear. The signals were then given, and the engines worked slowly ahead. The ship had not been not been in operation for nearly two yearsfor when the vessel came round from Liverpool, in July last, the float's were off the wheels, and the screw only was made use of—but, in spite of this, the machinery worked as smoothly and "sweetly," to adopt an engincering phrase, as if it had been in constant employment ever since it was first put together. Captain Anderson tried the paces of his engines in various ways, and found them all that could be wished. Of course they have been properly overhauled since the ship has been in the hands of the Telegraph Construction and Maintenance Company, and it is to this care and sitention that their present efficiency is due. It took some little time—a few minutes—before the ship began to move forward perceptibly; but she was no sooner under weigh than she was found to be well in hand and obedient to the helm. She enses manned their rigging and cheered her lastily as she swept by; and even at the port-holes of old hulks that were once men with the serious of the seas, as she moved once more into t

The Court.

Owing probably to the intended visit of her Majesty to Germany this autumn, their Royal Highnesses Prince and Princess Louis of Herse are not expected to visit England till about the month of November.

The Queen has had a neat tombstone placed over the grave of a servant named Glover, lately an assistant in the royal library at Windsor Castle, while a wreath of immortelles, which was placed there by the hands of her Majesty, lies (enclosed in a square glass case) surrounded by flowers upon the turf of the tomb.—Court Circuit Ci case) surrounded by flowers upon the turt of the tomb.—Court Circular.

On Saturday afternoon, by command of her Majesty, General and Mrz. Tom Thumb, with their infant daughter, and accompanied by Commodore Nutt and Minnie Warren, arrived at Windsor Castle for the purpose of giving a performance before the members of the royal family. The general and his party had been performing at the Windsor Theatre during the week, and had returned to town, but on receiving the royal command they returned to Windsor, and attended by Mr. Wells, the manager, the party drave in a cought of carriages to the castle, and were conducted to one of the private state apartments known as the "Reuben's Room," where for many years the theatrical performances have taken pisce. The general and other members of the little troupe went through a series of impersonations, songs, &c., in the presence of their Royal Highnesses Princesses Louise and Beatrice, and Prince Leopold, and the ladies and gentlemen of the Court, and ellected many tokens of satisfaction and applause. The general's party were then, at the clear of the performance, shown through the private and State apartments of the castle, and after visiting every object of interest acturned by railway to town.

The Ocean was a realizative of the private and State arned by railway to town.

returned by railway to to wn.

The Queen, we are happy to say, is enjoying excellent health. Her Majesty and members of the royal family visit Frogmore twice a day—in the moraing at nine o'clock to breakfast under a tent on the lawn, and in the evening at six o'clock to take tea.—Court

The Queen and members of the royal family at home will leave Windsor for Osborne in the middle of July, and in the first week in August leave Osborne for Germany.

CAPTURE OF NINETY-THREE WHALES .- Two or three days ago CAPTURE OF NINETY-THREE WHALES.—I'wo or ture days ago a large body of "bottle-nose" whales entered Broad Bay, in the island of Lewis. On being observed by the fishermen of Tong, a number of boats were manned, and immediately went in pursuit. In a short time the fishermen were successful in beaching the extraordinary large number of ninety-three. The carcases were sold by In a short time the inshermon were successful in beaching the extra-ordinary large number of ninety-three. The carcases were sold public roup on the following day, and as there were only six or eight boats crews engaged in the capture, the proceeds of the sale handsomely remunerated them for their few hours' labour.—Dunde Advertiser.

A New Collar FOR Ladies and Gents—A great success has attended the new material recently introduced by ARTHUE GRANGER, of 308, Highholbur, W.O., and requires only to be known to be undersally patronised. Samples sent post-free on receipt of three stamps—[Advertisement]

REYNOLDS'S MISCELLANY.

With Illustrations by Emigent Artists. No. 891, Price One Penny, now publishing, contains: THE ROBIN REDBREASTS. VIEW OF THE TOWN OF DOLE.
THE LANGHAM HOTEL, REGENT-STREET. THE POISONED NECKLACE.

THE POISONED NECKLAUE.

And the following Complete Stories, &c.:—
The Wolves and the Panther—Haunted (Poem)—Delusions—The EarthWorm—a seassination by Poisoned Clothing—The Two Septembers—A Day in the Moon—Influence of Affection—Invention of the Air-Gun—An Old Prophecy from Nostradamus—Sweet Flowers—Armenian Women—
A Terrible Torsado—Loquacity and Reservo—A Royal Fuglitive—
A Terrible Torsado — Loquacity and Reservo—A Royal Fuglitive—
Loquevity—Miscellansous—wit and Humour—Chess—Practical Receipts
Nottons of Companyondamin &c. &c. ondenta, &c., &c. London : J. Dicks, 818, Strand. on to Carrenpo

THE HALFPENNY GAZETTE.

No. 122, Price One Halfpenny, now publishing, contains:
THE WREOKERS: A TALE OF THE SEA. THE OVERLOOKER: A TALE OF THE FACTORIES. Knowledge of Animals—Youth (Poem)—Gleanings and Gatherings Clippings from "Punch" and "Fun," &c., &c.

London: J. Dicks, 318, Strand.

OALENDAR FOR THE WEEK.

ALCOHOL VILLE					A.	M .	P.	M.
Princess Alice married, 1862						18	7	40
Third Sanday after Trinity					8	4	-
Dog days begin						10
Nin H Lawrence died, 180/					40
Chasen taken by the Bililan,	1840				11	20
Old Midenmar DAV					-	-	-	17
One wines 35 51m.: #8.6. 01. 1	O 111.					42	1	-
Moon's Changes First quari	ter, l	185,	1h. 4	lm.	a.u	1.
Sunday Less	ODS-

CORNING. 1 Sam. 2; Luke 14.

AFTERNOON

Dog days begin, 3rd.—So named from the rising of Sirius, commonly called the dog star.

B. T. B.—The Egyptian Hall, Picositily, was built in 1812, at a cost of $16,000, for a museum of natural history collected by W. Bullock, F.L.S., during thirty years travel in Contral Americs. The collection was exhibited until 1818, when it was soid in 2.348 lots.

BEOWS (Carciff).—Jann was champion weessier of England at the time you speak of:

apeak of.

H. M.—There was an extraveganza called "Qapid in London" produced at the Queen's Tranze in 1845, with Mr. John Heeve as Cupla, and Mrs. Honey as rayone.

Bauds.—Mr. John Braham died in February, 1853. His last appearance in public was at the Exeter Hall Concerts the previous November.

B. B.—Hunger.ord Mal', Hungerford-market, was burnt down March 31, 1864.

1854.

Jakes T.—The present Royal Exchange is the third building excited nearly on the same site for the meeting of merchants and battlers. The Roseway projected by S.r. James Greanam, in 1838, but was not obsaid on until thirry years after by his younger son thomas Greanam of Coccierce. Mr. Sautey made his first pastic appearance at St. Martin's Obsaids, N.v. 18th, 1857, at one of Eulian's Compere, when "The Greanam was profound."

Hai, New 18th, 1857, at one of Eulian & Commerce, when the boundary was performed.

Was performed the whole dress of the boys of Christ's Hospital is the Eugs-Coat.—Yes. The whole dress of the boys of Christ's Hospital is the costume of the clitzins or London at the time of the foundation of that castify by Edwari IV.

Bonsa.—The original cast of the builteque of "Bombastes Furlose" was Artaxominona, Challes Mathews (the cider); Fusbos, air-Taylor; Bombastes, Mr. Liston; and Distafillat, Mrs. Liston.

Eva.—"Uncle Tom's Choin "first appeared in parts in the "Washington National ara," in 1850. When published in a complete form, 200,000 copies are Said to have been sold in the United States in less than a

r. -Captain Mayne Beld is a native of Ireland, and the son of a Presbyninister. -Send us your address, and we will recommend you a respectable

THE PENNY ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY NEWS. SATURDAY, JULY 1, 1865.

REGISTERED FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD

THE Metropolitan Free Drinking Fountains' Association held its annual meeting recently at Willis's Hooms, and its report—the summary of its position, of the duties it has evoked, of the benefits it has conferred, and of the urgent appeals to it for extension of those benefix—is well worthy the consideration of the benevolent public.
Unable to proure a retreaking draught of water wherewith to allay his thirst at home, the poor man was until lately equally unable to find it abroad. At one time, it is true, there were a certain number, though few, of pumps to be found in London supplying a street limpus enough. But the manner in which the metropolis is now distribed below the surface has effectually destroyed all save one or took the water having become so thoroughly impregnated with moxious matter from the surrounding soil that it is not only un-drinkable, but has been clearly traced to have contributed to the rise in the Begistrar-General's bills of mortality quite as efficiently once to be found in the City, Dr. Letheby, the Medical Officer of Health to the Corporation, declared by alth to the Corporation, declares that scarcely one now water fit for drinking. How many temperatelyanpplies this sore deprivation have inclined individuals may by be in absolutely drives to the public-house to waste money, time, and health in what began by allaying thirst, but ended in drunkenness, it is not our present purpose to in-quire. But it is obvious that their name is legion. It is enough to point out that there has for a long time still exist in many districts, containing rendreds of Sousands of teings, so inadequate, so repulguant, and so injurious a supply to the poorer classes of that which is admitted to be an indispensable sary of life, as to practically amount to a deprivation. Whilet necessary of life, as to practically amount to a deptration. Whitsi the craving of unassuaged thirst entails annorance or even acute suffering, personal cleanliness and that of gatments is, of course, not to be thought of. Disease follows neglect of both; and as self-respect soon dies away in the absence of that virtue which is held to be "next to godliness," decadence, moral, as well as physical, may in thousands of cases be traced to the patry want of that which, it is a diagrace to us as a nation, is not placed at the ample disposal of every soul in the land. To the milest of this deplorable state of things the Free Drinking Fountains' Association, in 1859, first advanced. Under the suspices of a philanthropic gentleman first advanced. Under the auspices of a philanthropic gentleman whom we should perhaps annoy by naming, it at ones called public attention to this orying svil, and set the example of remedying it Of the success which attended the movement, and of the nex which had existed for it, the most convincing proof may be found in the results, now perceptible, of its labours. Since its inauguration, about ninety drinking fountains, five cattle troughs (very expensive to supply), and a considerable number of dog troughs, have been instituted and maintained by the society. Some thirty more have been added by private benevolence. It has been estimate and at a purposely moderate calculation, than more than hims hundred thousand individuals drink dally at these logistates during the summer months; and the thought at once arises, what did these poor people do under the privation they must have endured ere this solace was offered them? There is, moreover, a still more painful reflection included. The evil thus remedied to many still exists for far larger multitudes, whilst the supply is still inadequate even to the districts which have been favoured. There are entire parishes of the poorer order still without a single fountain, and the scolety are compelled to entertain the conviction that at least two hundred more in the metropolis alone would scarcely fulfil the humane mission which they have proposed for themselves. They are, therefore, most anxious to draw the attention of the philanthropic public to the fact that only a very liberal support will enable them to extend the benefits thus urgently demanded of them, and for which they perpetually receive the most piteous appeals.

THERE must be something strangely attractive in the story of Waterloo. That single battle has actually a literature of its own. The original accounts of the various commanders, British, Prussian, and Dutch, with the circumstantial narratives of eye-witnesses and observers in both armies, would fill a goodly shelf, and these materials have been repeatedly analyzed and digested in later times by writers on both sides of the Channel. In fact, the most recent specimens of this literature have been contributed by France. Our neighbours seem to be drawn by some irresignfule attraction to the history of that memorable day, nor need we much wonder at the They fought a good fight, and there were incidents enough in the engagement to furnish very endurable explanations of the defeat. We ourselves should say, as a conclusion from all the recent discussions, that Napoleon undertook, of course unavoidably. more than he could perform. His design was to fall with his single semy first upon one of his enemies, and then upon the other, and cruth them both in succession. But this he could not accomplish. He did succeed by his strategic skill in separating Blucher from Wellington, and in fighting the former general before the latter could join him. But he did not succeed in so beating the Strussians that they could not renew the fight two days starwards, nor could he then drive the English from their politics before the Prussians came up. That appears to us the fair moral to be drawn from the arguments and descriptions of M.
Thinks and Victor Hugo, and we do not think it discreditable to the Tranch. Napoleon's conception was too gigantic. He and his soldiers did more than any other general, perhaps, or any other troops could have done in thus striking right and left alternately, but the enemy upon either arm was too much for him. There is however, a moral deeper than the attategical moral to be drawn from these undying histories. Side by side with the stories of Waterloo we have had banquets and festivals. Our own banquet was celebrated by our own duke up to the time of his death, but it was rather a private than a national solemnity. In other countries the anniversary has been publicly observed, and a correspondence just now reports one of these commemorations from Brunswick. It is the old story-a religious service and a military parade-the parade being attended by the survivors of the actual field. One can hardly imagine what is told of this review at Brunswick. We are assured that no fewer than 900 men who had fought at Waterloo appeared in military array last week. Now, the Brunswickers only went into action 8,000 strong, and they had losses in the battle, yet more than a tenth of the original muster are said to be living, and able to carry arms, fifty years after the fight. Pro-bably some explanation of the fact is to be found in the conditions of recruiting at the time. So exhausted were all nations by the contests of twenty years that mere lads were taken as soldiers, and it is possible enough that survivors of Waterloo might even now be under seventy years of age. Still, the story is remarkable, and the Branswick festival, we have no doubt, was all the more im-pressive from this curious feature. At Waterloo the disturber of the world's peace was punished, but that is all. The ideas which he represented survived; the dynasty which he founded rose again. and the ruins on which his throne had been raised it was found beyond our power to reconstruct. Under such circumstances, we think the celebration of Waterioo might as well be discontinued.

The victory was a splendid military achievement, but the policy which the war expressed was no enduring or successful policy.
The battle was a battle which soldiers may well remember, but it decided nothing which younger generations need be at the pains

SUDDER DEATH OF A HUNTSMAN.—A great gloom has been cast over the hunting world by the sudden death of Charles Treadwell, the celebrated huntsman of the Bramham Moor hounds. The circumstances are as follow, and may be relied upon for their correctness:—He had for some time been subject to aliments which undoubtedly indicated gout. Being of so resolute and determined a nature he bore with the pain which he no doubt felt, and had frequently to endure, and was unwilling to admit the nature of his disease. Until last Sunday he was tolerably well, and in the evening he walked out in the beautiful gardens of Bramham Park with disease. Until last Suaday he was tolerably well, and in the evening he waited out in the beautiful gardens of Bramham Park with Mc Modat, the head gardener. It was a cold evening, and he complained of being child, and went into his cottage close by. At first he experienced some distinctly in heathing, but in an hour and a half he became rapidly worse, and in a short struggle this great hunteman and good man was not more. The medical man, who was called in too late to render him any assistance, declared his belief that he died of retrocading gout saizing on a vital organ. In him the hunting world has lost one of its brightest members. Steady, honest, keen, intelligent, and untiring in his duties and work in the kennel and the field, to find his equal is exactly to be expected. Although one can only hope his excellent and sorrowing master may find a person to serve him, it is quite certain he will never find another Charles Treadwell. He with be burked at Walton, where he wished to retird when his hunting stock, being own brother to Jem Treadwell, who hunted Mr. Farquharson's hounds, and uncle to John Treadwell, late of the Quora.—Post. BOARDING-HOUSE SQUABBLE.

A BUARDING-HUUSE SQUABBLE.

In the Court of Queen's Bench was tried recently a case, Hicks v. Horsman. This was an act on for elsander, sud there was a count for board, locating, for The detendant pleaded never independent of the total of the total state of th is sender, it west that in substance and it lear.

Is sender, it west that in substance and it lear.

It flower librate and and the Predicts were counsel for the plaintiff it. Horse librate and all Predicts were counsel for the delegation of the librate and the Predicts were counsel for the delegation of the librate and the librate and local way that the librate and local way that the great and local way the librate and local way

The Lord Oniel Justice summed up, and the diet for the plaintiff, with damages £53 10s.

THE "COMMEMORATION" AT OXFORD.

THE "QOMMEMORATION" AT OXFORD.

This annual celebration commenced at Oxford on Sunday week, with the usual services at the various churches. We give, on page 40, an engraving of the company leaving church.

The annual procession of racing boats took place on the Isls on the following evening, and was witnessed by some thousands of speciators, the University barges, crowded with elegantly-dressed ladies, adding greatly to the crillance of the scene. The Octal crew, in saluting the head boat, Brasenose, by tossing their cars, overbalanced themselves, and the whole of them were immersed in the river, to the infaints amusement of the assembled thousands, who naturally anticipate such an occurrence, as it has for many years been one of the characteristics of procession night.

The members of St. Juhn's College repeated their amateur theatrical entertainment, consisting of the comedy, "She Stoops to Conquer," and the classical burietque of "Patient Princips; or, The Beaum of Ulysses," with, if possible, increased success, at the regular process of the day concluded with a grand Masonic ball in the Corn Exchange, given by the Apollo University Lodge of Freemasons. All the citie of the university, country, and the principsity visitors taying in Oxford were present, including the Princes Mirzs, and their attendant, Colonel Herbert, the Duke of Hamilton, Viscount Newry, Lord Willoughby de Broke, Lord Workworth, the Frov. G. M. of Oxfordshire, Lieutenant-Colonel Bowyer, Captain Bowyer, General Oxborne, &c. About 600 were present, and the tall was a great success, second only to that which was given by the University Masonic Lodge to their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Walss en their last visit to Oxfort.

Captain Emmes, Of the Alabama—A correspondent of the CAPTAIN SEMMES, OF THE ALABAMA—A correspondent of the New York Times of the 12th mat, describing a voyage down the Alabama river, writes:—"On my journey down the Alabama I met and conversed with the celerated Captain Semmes, of the Alabama. It he looked mad and ragged. The captain of the steamboat, finding that the pirate had no means with which to purchase mealtookets, made him a present of some. He was accompanied by his son, who is a young fellow of about twenty years of aga. Semmes said, 'The country is rutaed; Southern gentlemen are utterly reduced to poverty by these cruel invaders; there is no hope left; such as can get away will have to seek some corner of the earth where they can live as gentlemen; he had no doubt that the negro was happy in a state of slavery—freedom, as understood by the negro, is worse than alayery in any form, and the Yankees will find it so. The Yankees meant that Southern slavery should perish, and they have succeeded. They are the smartest and the worst people so industrious and so persevering in what they undertake. The defeat of the South, with a cause so just, is a deep mystery, that wears the appearance of God being against the South that could not be a fact, for the reason that the sacrifices and devotion of the Southern people were so sincere and so religious. He had a povel, uninted out very most many name and name and so religious. He had a CAPTAIN SEMMES, OF THE ALABAMA -A correspondent of the of the Southern people were so sincere and so religious. He had a novel princed on very poor paper, and profilehed in Richmond; its title is, 'Lady Audiey's Scorer.'"

SINGULAR ACTION OF A SOLDIER AGAINST HIS COLONEL.

SINGULAR ACTION OF A SOLDIER AGAINST HIS COLONEL.

In the Court of Common Pleas has been tried a case Freer of starthall. The dealeration in this case alleged that the defendant hal assaulted and different the plaintiff; that the defendant helps (the countainting officer of the 2nd Bigiment of Life Guardents that he sendents promote the plaintiff; that the defendant helps (the countainting officer of the 2nd Bigiment of Life Guardents and the countainting officer of the 2nd Bigiment of Life Guardents and the countainting of the countainting witnesses. The colonel asked who they were, and witness gave the names of Stevens and Fulbrook, two privates. These men were sent for, and Stevens said that witness got into barracks about ten minutes to ten. Witness referred the colonel to the regimental corporal-major, who saw witness pass the gate going into barracks. The corporal-major, who was standing by the colonel, said, "Yes, but.—," and 'hose were the only words he said. "The colonel said, "I shall confine you to barracks till further orders." Witness went to barracks, and the colonel's orderly fetched him again. Arxiz was there, and said he could not swear to witness, but he locked something like the man who had robbed him the previous evening Witness said no, he was in barracks at the time. He said the man who had robbed him the previous evening Witness said no, he was in barracks at the time. He said the man who had robbed him the previous evening Witness said no, he was in barracks at the time. He said the man theh asked for something to drick, and he gave him 6d. Arxiz said the man tried toget the whole of his money out of his hand; that the soldier was very desperate, and had a strong whip and struck him across the arm. He said he was frightened, and ran away. Witness said, "You ought to be able to identify the man, as he was in yeur company some time." Arniz said he thought he could. He said, "I see your moustache is not out. The man's moustache was cut at the bottom." The colonel said that would do, and witness asked him if he was to be confined, and the colonel said, "Oh, yes." Witness went back to his room. About eleven next morning witness went to the colonel in the orderly room. Witness said it was a very painful thing to be confined to barracks on suspicion of robbery, when he thought that he had proved that no suspicion of robbery, when he thought that he had proved that no suspicion of robbery, when he thought that he had proved that no suspicion of robbery witness did not carry a whip, but a small case. Arnz was valet to an officer in mage lemonade, and seems a profit from this

Mr. Bovill then addressed the jury for the defendant, and said

Mr. Bovill then addressed the jury for the defendant, and said that, perhaps, the jury would remember that the Life Guards were instituted in the time of Charles II, and that their duties were around the person of the Sovereign. The pay of the men was nearly double that in any other regiment, and it was most decirable that the men should be persons against whose character there was no suspicion. The orders to these regiments proceeded not from the Commander-in-Chief, but from the Sovereign and the commanding officer directly represented the Sovereign in the orders to gave to the regiment or to the men. It was absurd to say that Ublonel Marshall had in this case acted with any malice; but the colonic felt it due to himself to go into the witness-box and state then detailed the various circumstances, which he should prove tended to cast suspiciou upon the planniff, and he contended that if the jury should believe the witnesses who would state these circumstances, they would observe be a complete that the defendant had not acted "maliciously and of opinion that the defendant had not acted "maliciously and of opinion that the defendant had not acted "maliciously and of opinion that the defendant had not acted "maliciously and of opinion that the defendant had not acted "maliciously and of opinion that the defendant had not acted "maliciously and of opinion that the defendant had not acted "maliciously and of opinion that the defendant in the contended that if the provided the state "maliciously and of opinion that the defendant in the contended that if the pure state "maliciously and opinion that the defendant in the contended that if the pure state "maliciously and opinion that the defendant in the contended that if the pure state "maliciously and opinion that the defendant in the contended that it is the pure state the contended the contended that it is the pure state the contended that the contended that the contended that it is the contended that it is the pure state the contended that it is the con the jury should believe the Witnesses who would state these dir-ctimatances, they would clearly be of opinion that the defendant had not axed "maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause," but, on the contrary, that he had acted in the honest dis-cause, but, on the duty.

His lordship wild that he should tell the jury that if in their opinion the various facts which Mr. Rovill had stated were proved then the detendant had resconable and probable cause for what he

The jury said that they were of epicion that the defendant had a soled maliciously.

The jury said that they were of epicion that the defendant had not acted mailcloudly.

A discussion took place between the learned counsel, and the consequence was that some syddence was given.

Sir James Yorke Sorriet, the adjusted general, said that in the two regiments of Life tunings, and also be died from the same state of the two regiments of Life tunings, and also be died of the long outside the were certain privileges different from those in the course regiments. The commanding officers in these three regiments had power to dismiss soldiers without reference to the Horse Grands or the War-office, except in the cases of pensions and gratuities.

The jury found a verdict for the defendant, but some points of law were reserved to the plaintid's counsel.

SHOOTING A SUPPOSED BURGLAR

SHOOTING A SUPPOSED BURGLAR.
AT the Thames Police-court, on Monday, Mir. Robert Debenham, surgeon and spotheoxy, of Heath House, Commercial-road, Stepney, aged thirty-two, surrendered on his own recognizances, to anseer a charge of manifaughter, in killing Thomas Solomon, a ship's painter, who strayed into the grounds behind Scath House on the night of Whitaun Monday, the 5th Inst.

Mr. James Smith, solicitor, conducted the prosecution; Mr. Lawie, son, of Ely-place, solicitor, again defended the accused.

Inspector Hayes, of the K division, was recalled, and stated that since the last examination he had sgain examined the kitchen window at the back of Heath House, close to the place where the deceased was shot. There were no bars in front or behind the window, but there were shutters inside which were secured with bars.

Mr. Joseph Smith said it had never been suggest d that the deceased, who was an honest and industrious man, intended to break into the prisoner's residence.

Mr. Joseph Smith said it had never been suggett d that the deceased, who was an honest and industrious man, intended to break into the prisoner's residence.

Mr. Lewis, sen.: But if there were no bars to the kitchen window access could be more readily obtained.

Mr. Frederick Tethill, surgeor, of No. 8, Charles-street, St. James's-square, was called for the first time, and said from instructions he received from the Commissioners of Police he visited illord Cemetery on the evening of the 20th of the present month. The body of Thouas Solomon was exhumed, and he made a postmortem examination. The body was much decomposed. At the junction of the left temple with the parietal bone a wound of somewhat circular form was detected. On removing the scale as similar hole was found corresponding with that on the temple, and the occipital bones were fracture! The ball which he held in his hand was found firmly embedded in the right cocipital bone at the back of the skull, two inches back from the right ear, and somewhat below it. The ball had taken an oblique direction from the left temple just above the eye to the back of the head below the right ear. The wound was, no doubt, the cause of death.

In answer to Mr. Lewis, sen., the witness said the distorted and lagged appearance of the ball was not caused by striking the temple and bones of the skull. The ball must have struck some hard substance before it entered the skull, which was unusually thin.

Mr. Lewis, sen., said the evidence of Mr. Tothill, who was employed by the Government, supported his the rry, that Mr. Debenham never fired at the deceased, and that the ball struck the brick wall, the corner of which was chipped, and from the deflection struck the deceased. Without the exculpatory evidence of the surgeou. Mr. Tothill, a coroner's jury came to the conclusion that Mr. Debenham's garden, not a thief or a burg'ar, and was shot down and killed.

Mr. Lewis, sen., gaid has hould proceed until the magistrate had told him he was acting improperly, and in a lengthene Debenham's garden, not a thief or a burg'ar, and was shot down and silled.

Mr. Lewis, sen, said he should proceed until the magistrate had told him he was soting improperly, and in a lengthened argument contended that his client only intended to frighten the man, as a core-ner's jury had found, and that he ought to be discharged.

Mr. Paget sail the valuable evidence given by Mr. Tothill proved the wisdom of the step adopted by the Home-office in ordering the exhumation of the body. There was no doubt where his daty was in this case, and that was to send the accused before another tribunal. He would give no opinion on the merits of the case; The was the province of a jury. It was very important it should go forth to the world that the taking of lafe could not be justified except under extreme circumstances, by an areads on the person or an attack upon property. The magistrate went into the av of the case briefly, and committed the prinoner for trial for manistaghter, taking the same rail as before—sir. Debenham's own personal recognizance in £4,000, and four responsible householders in £1,000 cach.

Ball was at once lendered and accepted.

Ball was at once tendered and accepted.

A NEGRI LECTURER AND HIS PRINTER—A man of colour, named Jackson, was toe platefil in an action keard in the Mancheter County Court on Monday by Mr. Ovens, judge. The defendant was Mr. Ainsworth, bookseller and printer, Piccadily, whose foreman printer stemhed. Jackson lectures on negro slavery, and, on coming to Mancheter, he required some placards to amounce a heture, and was recommended to the defendant His gave the "copy" of the placard to a clerk, with an order for 1,000; but 100 were to contain certain lines which were to be omitted from 900. The omission was not made, and when, after a long doley, the order was executed, the 900 were uscless. The negro declines to take them in examine of instructions of instructions. The negro declines to take them in fature time, he offered to take them at 10c., it another 1,000 were printed correctly for 10c. According to the plaint firstement, the offer was accepted, and he was then subset for money—first for 10c. and then for 5s. on account, which he paid; and he was then told that no more bills would be printed unless he paid 15s. more. An attempt was made to force him down stairs, but, being vory atrong, he reasisted successfully; and when he left the shop the erroneous bills were thrown late the street after him. A wood-cut which had been used to illustrate the bills, and which cost the negro 12c 61 in Glasgov, had been detained twenty-eight weeks, during which time his lecture bills had been printed without the likustration, to the depreciation of their attractiveness in the negro's eyes, and to his pecuniary loss in the diminution of the audiences attending his lectures. He had even taken a policeman with him to demand the return of the wood-cut, but it had been refused on the ground that it was locked up in the type form, and could not be conveniently taken out. out, but it had been refused on the ground that it was looked up in the type form, and could not be conveniently taken out. On the production of the weodcat in court, the judge handed it over to the plaintiff, and told the representative of the defendant that it had been illegally detained. The foreman denied the statements of the negro, said that the bills had been printed according to "copy," and that the cut had been detained for the execution of the second order; but the foreman admitted that the transactions took place between the plaintiff and a cierk who had since left the defendant's service. The negro claimed £3 17s 61; the judge allo wed him 30s, and expressed the opinion that he had not been well used.—Manchester Examiser.

Generate Dutton by instating upon awing your tronsers fitted with BUSSEY'S PATENT BUTTONS, which never come off, and are fixed at the rate of two per minute. Patentons' Depot, 482, Now Oxfordstreet, W.C.—(Advertisement.).

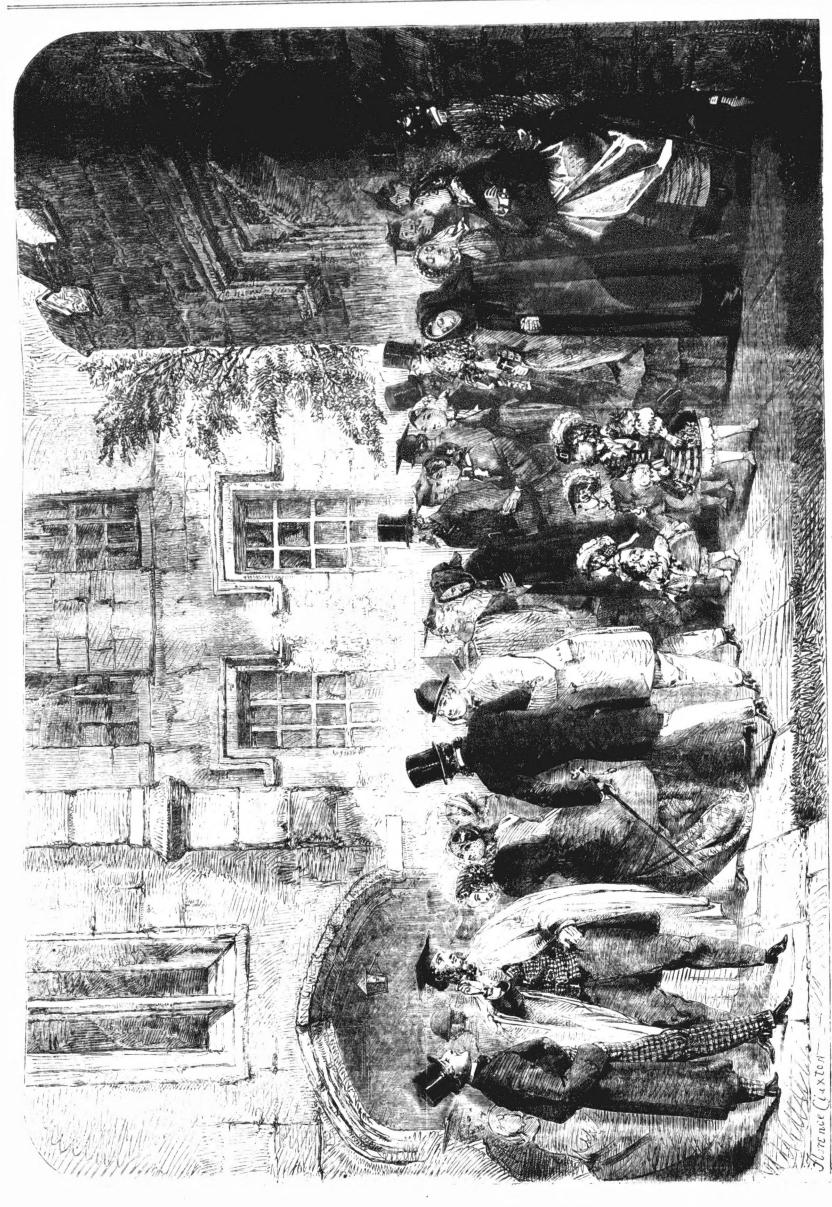

at the rate of five per minute. atreet, W.O.-[Advertisement.],

MIDSUMMERS BY L. (See mage above

Theatricals, Music, etc.

HER MAJESTY'S.—On Tuesday evening "La Sonnambula' was performed, with Mdlie. Ilma de Murska as the heroine; and on Wednesday Mdlie. Ilna de Murska appeared in "Lucia di Lammermoor." Both of these performances we have previously noticed. On Thursday, Mdlie. Titiens appeared in "Medea"

COVENT GARDEN.—"Il Barbiere di Siviglia" was performed on Tuesday evening, and on Thursday "Don Giovanni." Mdile. Adelins Patti sustained the part of Raina in the first opera and Zarlina in the latter. "La Favorita" was produced last evening, for the purpose of introducing Madame Galletti as Leonora, for the first time in England in that character.

first time in England in that character.

ADELPHL—Miss Bateman took leave of her London friends on Saurcay evening in a character in which she had not hitherto appeared on the English stage—namely, Pauline Deschapelles, in Bul wer Lytton's play of "The Lady of Lyons." The announcement that the performances were for the benefit and farewell appearance of the tair tragedience, coupled with the fact that she was about to undertake a new character, filled the house in every part. That Miss Bateman had personated Pauline Deschapelles irrequently before no reasonable doubt could be entertained. The frequently before no reasonable doubt could be entertained. The frequently before no reasonable doubt could be entertained. The frequently before no reasonable doubt could be entertained. The frequently before no reasonable doubt could be entertained. The frequently before and familiarity which alone, whatever the talents or genius of the artist, could achieve such results. The talents or genius of the artist, could achieve such results. The talents or genius of the artist, could achieve such results. The talents or genius of the artist, could achieve such results. The talents or genius of the artist, could achieve such results. The carlier and fifth acets was recreased the lowed the fourth and fifth acet, and most unmistakable kind. At least Mr. Webster led on Miss Bateman, and the plandits increased to a turor. The other characters were tolerably well supported. Miss Eisworthy's Madame Deschappelles was admirable, and Mr. Addison made an imposing picture of General Damas. Neither of these actors belong to the Adelphi company, and were only pressed into service for the night. Mr. G. Jordan is somewhat too heavy, and not sufficiently romantic for Claude Malnotte. He played the part, nevertheless, carefully and effectively. On Thursday evening Mr. J. L. Toole took his annual benefit here, and appeared in a new drams, entitled "Through Fire and Water." The house was filled, and the reception of Mr. Toole was most enthusiasti ADELPHI.—Miss Bateman took leave of her London friends on rican comedian, Mr. John E. Owens, as Solon Shingle, as performed by him in New York more than 170 consecutive nights."

ST. JAMES'S.—"Pouter's Wedding" is the title of the new farce produced at this theatre last week, by Mr. J. M. Morton, taken from a French drama, "Les Noces de Maiuchet." Most of the fun centres in Simon Pouter (Mr. F. Hobson), a country led, whose wedding with his awesthear. Kitty (Miss Weber) has just taken place. By a custom preserved from time immemorfal, the lord of the manor in the locality in which the wedding takes place is entitled to the first kiss of the bride, and this privilege is peculiarly obnoxious to Simen, who determines to pass off a Mrs. Podgers as his wife. This latter turns out to be none other than a Captain Latimer (Mr. H. J. Montague), who has assumed female attire in order to gain access to the nices of Alderman Marrowist (Mr. F. Matthews), the lord of the manor above alinded to. The aiderman has no intention of availing himself of his privilege with regard to Mrs. Ponter, but he has a Knavish stoward called Pickings (Mr. J. Johnston), who determines to personate the alderman and to taste the rosy tipe of Kitty. He makes the people believe that Alderman Marrowist is only the butler, and the wife of the latter (Mrs. F. Matthews) is furious at the supposed manorial delinquencies of her lord and master. All the characters are admirably played, and the soting of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matthews and Mr. F. Hobson will probably obtain for the farce a lengthened run.

probably obtain for the farce a lengthened run.

ASTLEY'S.—The reappearance of Miss Adah Isaacs Menken as Mazeppa has been productive of the most brilliant success. The enthusiasm attendant upon her equestrian feats seems to exceed that of last year, and she is even more fearless and dauntless than ever in her perilous journey up the platforms at the back of the stage. Mr. E. T. Smith knows how to his the public sate, and his re-engagement of Miss Menken will probably be a most lucky received on Monday evening last, and if for only having introduced a new sensation into the theatrical world she well deserves the applicate with which she is nightly greeted. The personation, however, of Lord Byron's hero is marked by a deal of merit, and the novelty of her style of setting is not likely to lose the hold it has taken upon the public. The performances during the week have commented with the farce of "sir. and Mrs. White," and concluded with the kallet of "Love and Folly."

VIOTORIA.—In our last we noticed the production of a camen.ed with the farce of "fir and Mrs. White," and concluded with the ballet of "fove and Folly."

VIOTORIA.—In our last we noticed the production of a new drama at this theatre entitled "The Power of Gold; now, Honesty is the Best Policy." The following is an outline of the plot. Some years before the action of the plote is supposed to commence, Ernestine, the Marquis of Oakley's only child posed to commence, Ernestine, the Marquis of Oakley's only child was, at his death, taken away from the family mansion by his steward, Grasper, and a nameless accompiles. From the nurse with whom she was left, the miller Olacket's wite received, adopted, and whom she was left, the miller Olacket's wite received, adopted, and re-christened her Ailco—the secret of her high birth being totally re-christened her Ailco—the secret of her high birth being totally re-christened her Ailco—the secret of her high birth being totally re-christened her Ailco—the secret of her high birth being totally re-christened her Ailco—the secret of her high strip being totally re-christened by everybody, and especially by Clacket. Such is but is distrusted by everybody, and especially by Clacket. Such is but is distrusted by everybody, and especially by Clacket. Such is the position of affairs when the drama opens, and, besides Alice, the miller's household consists of his son Beuben, a man-servant, Slimon Mealbag, and a maid-of-all-work, Becky Buttercup. The frank, genial, and kind-hearted Clacket comes home after a fortifrank, genial, and kind-hearted Clacket comes home after a fortifrank, genial, and kind-hearted Clacket comes home after a fortifrank, genial, and kind-hearted Clacket comes home after a fortifrank proving the existence, with a letter from Grasper's accomplice, detailing the abduction of the child, Ernestine, and proving the existence.

Clacket represents those important facis to Grasper, who becomes a dangerous tempter, and ofers the miller hall the sum to keep his knowledge to himself. Clacket accepts, and from that time hous seemed to be appreciated by the audience, and Mr. Chamberlain played the lover with his usual ability. Miss Maria Daly and Mr. Yarnold carried on the underplot, or more properly speaking, personated the rustic lovers, with all desirable quaintness.

THE HANDEL TRIENNIAL FESTIVAL AT THE ORYSTAL PALAGE.

CRYSTAL PALACE.

This highly attractive festival was inaugurated yesterday (Friday) week with the grand rehearsal. The programme chosen was made up of selections from the performances since given on Monday, Wednesday, and yesterday. From the "Mossish" the grand choruses, "For unto us a child is born," and "Hallelujah," were choruses, "For unto us a child is born," and "Hallelujah," were given a rather long extract from "Saul" an important extract from "Samson," comprising air for baritone (Mr. Santey), "How willing my paternal love;" air for soprano (Mdile Adelma Patti), "Let the bright seraphim," and the grand chorus, "Let their colestial concerts unite;" from "Aois and Gelates," the air for tenor (Mr. Sims Reeves), "Love in her eyes sits playing;" from "Judas Maccabeus, air for soprano, (Mdile Patti), "From mighty kings;" chorus, "We never will bow down;" and trio for two sopranos and aito (Mdile. Patti), Madame Radersdorfi, and Mcdame Sainton-Dolby), and chorus, "See the conquering hero comes;" and from "Larad in Exam" the absence from the grand series in the celestial concetts unite." from "Acis and Gelates," the air from cener (Mr. Slines Reeves), "Love in her eyes site playing if from "Jodes Macocheus, air for acoprano, (Mdle, Patti), "Index Macocheus, air for acoprano, delice Patti, Macame Radermord," and Mt. dame Santon-Dolby), and chorus, "See the conquested of the control of the con wind instructory, mony, who joined Mr. Santley in the bass music, gave Mr. W. H. Weiss, who joined Mr. Santley in the bass music, gave the fine sir, "The people that walked in darkness," with great power; and Mr. W. H. Cummings was of much service in two tenor recitatives and the two quartets "Since by man came death," and "For as in Adam all die," with Mdile. Adelina Patti, Madame Sainton-Dolby, and Mr. Santley.

ELECTION RIOT AT NOTTINGHAM —A monster meeting of the electors and non-electors was to be held on Monday evening in the Great Market-placy to hear addresses from Messrs. Morley and Paget. The operative frame-work knitters of Sutton-in-Ashfield, Kirkby, and other villages were to come by special trains to take part in the proceedings, but when the trains arrived the operatives were set upon by a violent rabble, and drove back into the station. Numbers of roughs waited in various avenues in the town for Messrs. Paget and Morley, but they did not make their appearance. When the procession of tue town voters arrived before the hustings Meanthe of Adaptic Values and Values are the set fown for Mosers. Paget and Morley, but they did not make their appearance. When the procession of the town voters arrived before the hustings they were petted with boulders. Ultimately the hustings were got to possession of, the flags were torn down, and the soaffolding set fire to, and totally constuned. Soldiers were sent for from Sheffield. Young's Assicated Dome and Busion Plasters are the best ever invalued for giving immeniate case. Price 6d. amil: per box. Observe invalued to giving immeniate case. Price 6d. amil: per box. Observe invalued to giving immeniate case. Price 6d. amil: per box. Observe invalued to giving immeniate case. Price 6d. amil: per box. Observe invalued to giving immeniate case. Price 6d. amil: per box. Observe invalued to giving in the best ever invalued to giving a set file. Description of giving in the best ever invalued to giving in the best ever invalued to giving invalued to giving and all kinds of fittings. Lists free. 29, Minories, London.—[Advertisement.]

Thess.

PROBLEM No. 274.—By W. GRIMSHAW, Esq. Black

White

White to move, and mate in three moves

SOLUTION OF PROBLEM No. 266. Black White.
1. Q takes Kt (ch)
2. Kt to Q Kt 5
1. B dis mate 1. Q takes Q 2. Any move

SOLUTION OF PROBLEM No. 267. 1. K moves 1. Q to Q 6 2. P to K Kt 4 8. P to B 8 4. Q mates

H. J. Lez.—You will find a very interesting account of the Chess Automaton in "Tomlinson's Amusements in Chess." Several of the games between various players in England and the Automaton were published by sir. G. Walker.

J. Palmer.—We shall be glad to know whether the problem forwarded by you has been sint to us as an original position.

G. S.—We have played over the game, but it has been incorrectly copied, as moves 16 and 17, on both sides, are impossible; perhaps some moves have been omisted.

O. I. A.—Your problem shall appear next week, if possible. Very cheap blank diagrams can be obtained from Mr. Dixon, of Gracechurch-street.

O. i. A —Your problem shall appear next week, if possible. Very cheap blank diagrams can be obtained from Mr. Dixon, of Gracechurch-street.

J. T.—Franklin's "morals of Chess" have so often appeared in print, that we must decline to comply with your request to give them insertion in our Chess column. The following, however, may be new to many of our readers. Stamma, a native of Aleppo, published in 1737 a work containing numerous "and games;" and in an edition of this work he gives to the student of Chess. "Se very careful how you capture a piece which your adversary offers you for nothing; for he intends either to win one of your superior pieces, or to give you checkma." It is related that a young man of this country, still under paternal authority, having learnt the game of Chess, took so much pleasure in it that he neglected everything else. It is father, having often reprimanded him without effect, became at last so angry mat he threatened one day to kill him. The son fell upon his knees, demanded parion, and stated that this game was more useful than his father seemed to think it; but that he would continue to play no more. After a moment's reflection, the father demanded the use of such a game; for he could see none, except it were to encourage idleness. 'My father,' replied he son, 'this game teaches me many things that will be very useful to me during my future life. If, for the good of my country, I were required to go to the ware, this game teaches me how to fight with advantage. If I were on a journey, and robbers were to attack me, I should know better how to detend myself than one who has not acquired skill in this game.' 'Tell me how this is possible,' said the father. 'You must put me to the proof,' responded the son. The father did so: he sent his son on a distant journey, with a large sum of money to buy merchander to these robbers, he dismounted quickly, abandoned his horse, and, to these robbers, he dismounted quickly, abandoned his horse, and, to these robbers, he dismounted quickly, abandon

Syorting.

BETTING AT TATTERSALL'S.

MOSDAY.

THE interval between the Ascot and Goodwood meetings is marked THE interval between the Ascot and Goodwood meetings is marked by a wonderful diminution in the attendance on the regular days, those on sporting intent evidently preferring the rod or the yaont, or even a quiet saunter along the sea shore, to the wearing and tearing business of the raccourace, and its necessary sequel at Knightsbridge on the Monday following. The greater portion of the afternoon was devoted to settling on the racing of last week, all of which went off, we believe, without the semblance of unpleasantness.

Goodwood Our.-4 to 1 aget Fills de l'Air (t to £50.)

DEMBY.-1,000 to 50 aget Baron Rothschild's Janitor (t); 1,000 to 40 aget the Marquis of Hastings's King Hal (t to £500); 1,000 to 30 aget Mr. Naylor's Monarch of the Gien (t); 1,000 to 25 aget Mr. F. Fisher's Magician (t); 1,000 to 25 aget Mr. Merry's Primate (t); 1,000 to 20 aget Primes D. Sottykoff's Dake of York (t)

A FIRST-BATE WRITING DASE for 2s. (or free by post for 2s stamps), fitted with Writing-paper, Envelopes, Pencase and Peng diotting-book, &: THE PHILE OF TWENTY GUINEAS AND SILVES MEDAL was given by the SOUETY OF ABTS for its utility, and chappings at 0000 nave already been sold. To be had of Parkins and Gotco, 26, Oxford-street, London.—[Advertisement.]

Law and Police.

POLICE SQUETE

"Ladies" is verie cure. Daylotte Jones and Catherine Martin, the latter a smarty-diseased and coal-tooling young ger; wearing the open and periable usef-says bounds of the breaking tensition, were brought before his rheaved floory onarged with refusing to pay a casman his command of 10, for coarsying them from little requiring to pay a casman his command of 10, for coarsying them from little requiring to pay a casman his command of 10, for coarsying them from little requiring to pay a casman his command of 10, for coarsying them from little required to be driven to to say, biforms file for itse 7th. What the sanction of his master, and seeing specialists were fashingably gressed, he accepted the offer, and seeing specialists were fashingably gressed, he accepted the offer, and shought hisparts. Washing we have they for the file as the first the sanction of his master, and sometimes a file of the say offer a file as the file as the file of the file of the file of the said of the complainant; for a file of high an it he ride back. Basines, they offered 10s. The pileoter Martin: We did n.t. Nothing was haid about the lare, and he retured 7s, which we offered a time station. He demanded a smilling a mile. This automent was denied, and the complainant; which have the first satement was denied, and the complainant with lare, and he return a offer of 7s. Sir francis: We've see deliverable station and another a commandant with the said of the complainant; well, my master was discreas; to frang them up at any Thomas; Then do you hink it was discreas; to the time, and indies generally have lote of mousey. They was our creased up no frantismable. Primary Junes: We've you can saisty him I will give you the opp. "London Sir Thomas a commandant was then "arranged" out of court.

WESTMINSTER.

WESTMINSTER

A WORTHLES SOR.—ATTEMPED SOUDE.—William Gifford, aged 12, was charged with attempting to commit saled a William Hoymak, superintendent of the Soune-ser-buildings Lodgarg-hone, Westminster, said that the defeadant's father and learny ave dense. The previous night winess was called to their apartments to remove the prioner, who refused to go array—stating that it was his father's place, and he had a right to remain. His father removed to admit him, east the accused, staddedly taking a knile from his poone, and undesping it said he would not trouble any one any longer, and was reling the acids to bis throat, when witness was speaking to him, prinner nearly strategich himself of rawing his neckerchief tightly round his throat, and he was intennated for some seconds. When he came to, he was taken into custody. Defendant said he had got now: so to go, and considered his father had a right to afford him a home. The father, a sorgent of the corp; of commissionistics, and that the prisoner was a workiness young may, who was calminally troubling him for motory, and blinging him to claimes and penary. Him master had discharged nim for miscondard. His was remainded.

OLEBREN WELL.

DISGRACAFUL STATE OF THE TICHT-OF-LEAVE STATEM.—Mary Burchell, alias Uninnau, aged 30, described as a servant, was charged with steating some articles from her late mistress. The evidence of Mrs. Burge showed that the prisoner had been in her service for about a munth, and that she had to discharge her in consequence of her drucken habit. Since she had left she (the winness) has massed several studies, and the had accertained that the prisoner had pawned them at offerent pawnerskets. Mr. Barker inquired of Mrs. Burge is the knew anything of one presoner, or if she had a unaracter with her when she took her into her employ? Mrs. Barker said she thought also had been very elegracefully treated in the mainter, for the police had told has that the prisoner was now out of prison on a ticket-of-leave. Before she took the prisoner was now out of prison on a ticket-of-leave one from the country, but did not say that she hid been convicted of islony. Mr. Barker assed of the joiner if the was trace that the prisoner was new at large on a ticket-of-leave? Lupscotar Lungden, N division, and that the prisoner had got a ticket-of-leave interpol on a charge of feony, and a previous conviction being then proves against her are was sentenced to five years ponals servitude. Before her discharge any season, and a previous conviction being then proves against her assess the was sentenced to five years ponals servitude. Before her discharge an egre the address of the Say. Mr. Bell, Incolne-lear-fields, as the place where she was ging to reside. This was not the first prisoner that had given that address. Mr. Belle es said that servitude. Before her discharge and prisoner had been that her employ had it not been for the calcaster given by serving conference into her employ had it not been for the calcaster given by serving control the residence into the residence in the serving tree had been that been consider it proper that persons that the prisoner had been that been that been that the prisoner had been the prisoner soner. Mr. Barker said he did not consider it proper that persons use the prisoner should be intronced into respectable people a hodese in the way the pittoner had been. He should remand the prisoner for further longity.

Violant Assault by an Organ-Grinder.—Glovanni Morsili, an organ-grinder, was charged with violently assaulting Frederick brading of 70, Chaper-street, Fentouville, by biting them is the thamb. Mr. John Wake-ling, solicitor, defonded. The defendant was playing an organ in Ularchnogi-square, when he became annoyed with some boys and an atrick them with his said. The prosector went up to prevent him, and than the defendant asketched him, snocked him worn, and bit he thumb fallbough the askets was compelled to have his hand in a slog. Mr. Wake-ling contended that the prosector deserved as he had got by interfering in what did not canoria him. Mr. Barner fined the defendant 4the, and the series of the state of the deserted of the series of t

MARLEOBOUGH STREET.

Betauring Booked Streat Theatree.—Mr. John Griffling, coachmaker, of 37. High-acres, Wareheld, was coarged before Mr. Mansfleid with creating a distarbance during the performance at the Princess's Theatre, and refeating to leave his seat when requested to do by the leases of the theatre. Mr. Edward Lywis, of Great Mariborougheatrest, appeared for the defendant. Mr. M. M. Sieigh, treatmer at the Frincess's Theatre, said: Op Thansay night this gentleman occupied one of four seats in the upper carely, which had been broked by a gentleman in the morning. First of all the bux keepers requested him to leave the seat in the upper carely, which had been broked by a gentleman in the morning. First of do so, I was sailed by a out-keeper. I told the detendant that persons and booked ince seat in the morning, and that he made leave it, at the same lime offering him another care. The defendant caused a disturbance by not leaving the seat, and occasing persons to stand a to see what, was going on. The defendant was very quiet, but obstinate. I had no class alternative but to give the acleadant into custody. It is too daty of the box-keepers to see that persons who book seats have them. By Mr. Lewis: Until I space to the defendant has perfectly quist; and, in fact, he was so all the time. All the seats in the apper circle were not bucked, but a good many were. Mr. Mansfleid: If a person takee a place already left, the proprietor has a perfect right to turn him out; but it do not know that he can proceed any latines winh it. I should be guilty of false imprisantment of legit as defendant any longer in the dock, and he is the efforte discharged. Mr. Lewis: It is a gross case of intentering with the incept of the analysis; and a on or think for a mousant that with the hority of the requestable manager of the theater—Mr. Vanneg—in giving Mr. Grifflins into custody. Mr. Sieign: I gave the defendant into custody of mry was responsibility. Mr. Lewis: Then you will have to deare. When he were took before."

BETAL

HEUTALITY OF A DRUSERN TAILOR.—Thomas Vates, tailor, No. ?, Lance-lire-court, was charged with til-using his wife, blizabeth Yases. In-complainant said, .boat four o'clock yesterday mo..ing, nor husband, who had gone id boa drudk, as he had begin fine habit 'th whige for the hast five works, bugan to heapher which it he o's wine a sheet-board unit ner body was aveced with bruines. The prisoner site attract her a servere blow on the mouth with his first. He was simes; as anya grauk, and hardly ere cosses form ill-naing hur, and she was therefore at has obliged to give him into outstody. Police-constable C 55 proved that the complement, at the time he gas her, was beeding from the much. Sue said her hasboard and bested her with the shedow-coard bested on the would got get up and fetch him some beer. The prisoner said his west armon him first the wife said the was matter. She said the was asleed. Mr. Killitt dand the prisoner 40 ., with the alternative of twenty days impressum. It.

MARYLKBONG

MARYLEBONS

CAUTION TO OWNESS OF FEROCIOUS DOSS—James Davies, a buinder, in business at No. 22, the tonshire street, Lissua-2000, was charged that me, on the 18th inst., sid unia willy soffer to be at large a ferocous humezzles dog, which his boy maned Walken Krewsham. The boy, who when put in the bux appeared in a very weak cast, deposed that he was passing oy defendant's nosse, when a degil, we at the tree stop, it, him and worked him so, that when the dog was, ulter from him blood came from several parts of his boay. He had not be on able to do any work sizes. A woman Staned West corrobusted, and said she had seen the same dog the other boy. She was so horrified at seeing complainant wortled that she faither, and when carried home she gave premisers birth is a still-boy him when she complained to the consequence of the same dog biring him. When she complained to the consequence of the same dog biring him. When she complained to the defendant he seized her by the neck and strust her out of ms shop. Defendant, a sawer to the charge, acknowledged that the dog was his property, bit it would not blee any one except it was gashed to it. It was foreign and adopt a fer obtained to the charge the defendant was the very reverse of being a feroclous dog. A relative of the defendant was the very reverse of being a feroclous dog. A relative of the defendant was the very fond of them. It is very sains and order of people to seep a smalling cut to safe man to a new your conference of people to seep a smalling cut to safe man the said work of a good-tempere dog flying at or bining any of its frienda, and dogs generally are too as agaiden, not to know that boys, as a rail, see very fond of them. It is very sains and order of people to seep a smalling cut to safe man to a dog was to the amount of big arise i had received. But the bits from a dog was totally different a power man in lovel get to know the amount of big arise i had received. But the bits from a dog was totally different. A passon might feel no effect from the bi

WORSHIP STREET.

Inciting a Girl to Rob her Parenis, and Theratering her Life.—
Charlone sorie, 39 years of age, the wife of a men digaged in the dan markets, and living in Union-court, Fashbou-treet, Spitandeld, was absreed with having at various times induct Marina Mark, daughter of Mr. Mack, isadhra of the 190 Bells, opposite Whiteonapel Church, to stail mones belonging to him, and sho with felonically receiving the same, well knowing it to have been soles. It appeared that soont a monta since gold and silver con had been missed in the this and cashbox at thost injectule—that Miss Mack, who will be fourteen years old in Gotober next was in the pracince of serving behind the bar, and giving change to the contoners, but yet regularly at-emed, or rather was sent to school. Supplied, of course, did not attach itself to her, and matters were getting very uspleasant, when her patents received a private some munication that he was in the babit of going to the prisoner's house, and making a companion of her cangiter, who is about the same age as hereful. Upon this point she was questioned, made in denial, and abbaquently astomated father and motors of stating that all the money missed by them she had isleed and reassand articles of dress from pleage in company with Miss Mack took her into costedy. When accused, she morely replied, "You must provide." Mr. Kinton questioned the girl stages though with Miss Mack took her into costedy. When accused, she morely replied, "You must provide." Mr. Kinton questioned the girl stages though. "You must provide had been to her accused and if could not give her so in money; institudy, favor her a before the far had been to her house is Union-court by her vitation, and are has account not be hand and egg. Then in own the had a councily be a she of the had do not any own the sort form her want to be a she where it gots from Next any, Satenday, I gave her a hef sovereign. Next, Tue-day i gave her so. She due not be she was a she sheld if could not give her so her owner, it had sone s

Sing which we after wards took to the tresimaker's. I also accompanied the caughter to buy some things. The prisuner, who offered no defence, was isomanded for a tew days.

Extracophimate Charge of Assaulth.—Robert Willis, 25, described as a lab. ur.r, but stated to have been a sailor, was charged with feloniously ansatiling and wounding, with a theat to do grievous bodity hard. The assault was committed at far back as the 18th of May last and the prisoner has seen asymmetric at far back as the 18th of May last and the prisoner has seen asymmetric at an increase and the prisoner has seen asymmetric at an increase an increase of the London Ricephal, to a tend. The prisoner has been for the years a lodger in the bond of a man mamed Produce, in Preston-street, Bethnalgreen, and was so at twelve o'clock on the might of the 18th of May, when he slegtly one bed, and Unaries further and Friedrich, Frentice, welve years o.d, and Turner's brother by a second marringe, alept tugether in another bed in the sense round. The two interference of the first selection, when the prisoner, pointing to futner, who was still asleep, said, "Duy you like him?" The Boy said be did not, and left the foom, but while descending the saids he heard such heavy and repeated blows in the toom he had left that he sersamed out in alarm to his father or mother. They ran up into the room, which was in derikness, and end heard Turner groaming. His mother spoke to thin, but hey were not a sanwer, and an a light being procured she found him lying in the bed maenatole, and bleeding protuces from numerous wounds in the bead. She then fashed. Peter France, ner numbrud, who on the light being fetched as we the prisoner standing at the foot of the bed, saked him, "master could induce him to commit south an act," and the prisoner repied, "The devil, and I was sorry for it the moment I did it." The boy was sent for a contache, while then fashed, while Williams and a lot, and the prisoner for the contache, while the father as a cold for a doctor, but count said he would rather reserve what he had to say, and Mr. Eilison ordered thin to be folly committed for trial.

Assault at a Soy or Acad Pagurts—Daniel O'Brica, a sturdy, cannel labourer, about 25 years of age, was charged with assauling his failner and mother. Honoren d'Brien, a yesterbie-louking dame, and: I five at 25. Libb bi-street, Mile-con, and out you have there too. He came home hat hight and wanted me to lend him a shilling I had not one to lede, and title him so, then he bit me om the head with his fits and hurt me. He, struck me three or furr times. He hat my old mast storrence he dass not give un any of his money, only what he page for his own field and ledging He mant be an in work labely; ladged, there's only little for him to do. He was tiply. William O blien: Take's my soy (tip fill fills feelings overfolme him as he house at defendable, at he commind problem; feelings overfolme him as he house at defendable, at he commind growth him as he house at defendable, at he committed by each to see the states of the second many labels for the labels of the fills when he had a second many many and had been a second my labels of the labels in the labels over it, and he hister has on he hey. He has not not story his his house of the samulung his father, was did not then appear against him. Magistrate father, was did not then appear against him. Magistrate father, was did not then appear against him. Magistrate father, was did not then appear against him. Magistrate father, was did not then appear against him his analysis father what he was not he drink that was not he drink him the him had been a support of them since I was not he drink. I was not and the him him him had here and any out, assauling a wo and an intending, coarset, ybrate of a young man as you assauling a wo and persons in this matter, putting aside size facility wo man and the crink! and every moment you are acount to moneture hard about to the house of Correction. Defendant: I say it was the drink had been and the crink! and every moment

THAMES

THAMES.

A FRAILE HILEWAY HOBBER—Sophis Field, aged 28, was charged with steeling a purse containing 28s, from a sailor named Robert Nesson. The saffor has been taking a craise in the neighbourhood of Waltechapel, and Swass elagacting atong Escheren-lane, when the princer, one of the namerous land sharks is that quarter, marked him as her prey, and shavery coolly took a purse containing 53s worth of silver from his pocess, and transferred it to har own. The robbery was observed by Walliam Grayourn, as ofga-maker, of 29. Giocossic-buildings, New-road, St. George-is-the-asis, who immediately gave her into custody. The addor, whe said he was more than three sheets in the wind, had no reconcistion of the saffair, only to missed his money. Mr. Partridge asked the grisoner if and would be tried by him opieter going to the escalons for trial? The prisoner: I am innocent. Mr. Partridge: Then I shall columnit y.u for trial. The prisoner: fry me figure asy y.u are mancent. The prisoner: Them I plead guity. Mr. Partridge: Don't cot that, if you are nancent. The prisoner: Then i plead guity. Mr. Partridge: Don't cot that, if you are nancent if don't wisn you to plead guity. The prisoner: I mm unity. I plead guit, Mr. Partridge. No doubt jou are guity. I sentence you to ax weeks implisation and had labour.

dougt you are guilty. I semistice you to an weeks implication of labour.

A DIFF.COLF POINT OF LAW—Mrs. Elizabeth Bhiciab, a very respectively would be added to the control of the contro magistrate and telled.

DEFERRATS ATTEMET TO COMMIT SCICIOR—Margaret Macarthy, a large ro-raced and meaching from women, was brought before Mr. Ellison, charged will being drank and quitderly, and attempting to commit audits. Frederick threenfeld, a police-constants, No. 495 M. deposed to naving to look up the prisones for catageons and discreenly conduct in the Commercial road. Pellice-constants William Streets said that in the curse of the adjut the prisones readevoured to strangle berself in the coil by means of a nanderlenkel, and sub-equently by means of her shawl, the shad almost amessed in the second attempt. Mr. Criffiq, inspector of the K division, said that the prisoner was a woman of miamous character and keyt a brothet. Mr. Eitigen organed next; be remainded for a week.

SOJTHWARK

SOJTHWABE.

Disgracurul Fraud utous a Railwar Compart.—John Salter, surgical instrument maker, or 5, dames areas, featurally was charged before Mr. Burcham with the following diagraceta fram upon the South Eastern Railway Gempany. William Tawal, theke colleges at the Strood station of the storic Kent Railway, seld that on Saturday evening he was on outy at that station, when he saw the defendant take a ticket for Higham, by the saven clock train. Having some ampicion that he intended to defraud the company by going further, witness accompaned the train towards London, onthe clin selges out. At New-cross the winess assisted in collecting the tioness, and on coming to the defendant he gave him part of a return toket from Woolwich to Leadon, saying that was all right, as he has only come from that place. Witness told him that he knew better, as he had seen him take a ticket at 18 throod for Higham, and that he had so-companied him all the way. The defendant teld him that it was false, as he had only come from Woolwich, and that he had no tekes from Strod to Higham. Witness then got into the same compariment with him to proceed to the station's-mather's office at the London-bridge, Tolminus, and handed it to him. On the arrival of the train at London-bridge, Mr. Dyne asked him has address, and as he refused or give it Sergeant Holmes, the desective officer stationed on the company's premises, took him into custody. In answer to Mr. Strokam, the winest said the prisoner changed from a second to a third class at Woolwich, as the return ticket from the latter place was only for that sort of carriage. In answer to the charge, the defendant said he certainly did cony coming from Strood, but the facts were these. He had a customer as that place, and intended to have stopped there, but he was airaid it was the instrument to the carriage at Woolwich, he did that of necessary, and on returning to the trail he considered it better to go home. As fer his getting out of the carriage at Woolwich, he did that of necessary, and o

LAMBE .H.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK INTO NAWIMOUS CHURCH.—Henry Jenkins] and Rionard viditer, two powerful young men, the former of woom had given a false address, and the latter merery stalleg tast he loughed in Remyster, were charged before Mr. Elifots with attempting to break into Nowington (Aureth Polios-constable Mosses Kitcheser, 109 L, disposed that on toak moraing, between the hours of tweive and one o'dook, while passing introng Nowington-churchyard, he heard a noise close to one of the windows of the observation of the observation of the windows of the observation of the observat ATTEMP? TO BREAK INTO NEWINGTON CHURCH.-Henry Jenkins and

'fers annual gathering on Monleayharst has psoullar features, like the Byson, deox, and Ghoodwood Meetings, and it is certain that that held list week was equal to its predecessors in opinic of fun, which it, pathes, more stracelive to the general company than the sport. The course looked like a tage feit, and the book-keepers must have driven a recaring trade, as well as the keepers of the now old-leakhoned generated ateals, while the dealer in dolls, jolly nones, and the other outfromary spinness of a cockroop holidsy, from a ready sale for their wave.
The weather on the Wednesday was awfully pote and oppressive, but it did not deter the large numbers that docked to the Wasterloo Ralls wy Bistation from anaking the journey, and the various routes to Hampton from the motropolis greenested a lively supered is the morning advanced, the roads being studded with vehicles of the usual molley and indestributed to the usual molley and indestributed to the usual molley and indestributed and its result forms to a sophy were glad to avail themselves of non shone with nuwonted brilisroy, and its rays were so force that isroy, and its rays were so force that isroy, and the rays were so farree that afforded, and before the rasing began the enclosure was well patrorized by the deaded was won set follows:—

The West Mon!—

The West Mon!—

The West Mon!—

The West Mon!—

Sows sand, If with So added, was won by Attanha.

The Hampton Flaton of Sevesabh, with 50 added, was won by The Claremont Stakes of 5 sove sach, with 100 added, was won by The Stand Plate of 50 sove than 100 added, was won by The Stand Plate of 50 sove than 100 added with 100 sove sech, was won by was won by Au-was won by Au-

"ite." The "Cup day," as the second day termed, is standinguently termed, is always the most popular amages of the holiday mages of the metropolis, and large as ways the attendance of general assets, it was provision on the provision on the provision on the parameter of the is that so many people were never seprential or the racing without of the line two many people were never seprential or the racing without or the racing without on the parameter of the lines was no look of neering was the modern was not neer the booth general was not neer the booth general was needed the second was needed.

road" the bis The Visitors Plate was won by Lord Annesley's Finesse; i trash Plate, by Mr. Brayley's Blackbird; Her Majesty's Plate, Mr. I. Anten, Mr. I. Anten, Caller Ou; the Ballway Plate, by Mr. Milche Virtuous; the Skurry Stakes, by Mr. Ovranty's Columbia; a Virtuous; the Skurry Stakes, by Mr. Ovranty's Columbia; a There was the usual bolistorus for and "accidents of the rot on the return from Hampton, as will be seen on a reference to lituatrations on the present page.

GARIBALDI AND GESTERL GEANT—Usptain de Rohan, navral A D.C. to densels Garibaldi, and commodore of the second Garibald supedistion to Skully in 1860, under the American flag, had the honour of presenting to General Grant yesterday the congratulations of General Garibaldi, who throughout the rebellion has never for a single intent wavered in the most ontspoken and heartfelt expressions of sympathy for our cause. It may not be generally known pressions of sympathy for our cause. It may not be generally known that Garbaeld is a chizon of the United Sistes, and during his retirement at Capters has wached with the greatest anxiety the proteins of express of expressed by English visitors, that the cause of liberty oftentimes and would trimph, and that if the North falled, then might he and every other soldier of freedom well despair—"For," said he and every other soldier of freedom well despair—"For," askin humafity.

A das Trice.—Some rogue has entered two chapels in Obstham A. A. das Trice.—Some rogue has entered two chapels in Obstham supplyed by the gas company to take a record of the consumption of gas by the meders in the chapels; from one chapel he carried off of some money in missionary boxes, the.—Chalkam News.

majestler, on returning to their carriege, was corremony by several of the Englishmen on the correct. Their vill will no double give a gree though I do not think it will have the effect of i 40

A SKETCH ON THE BEACH AT EXMOUTH.

A CRUSTY old visitor to Exmonth writes to us as follows:—

"Br.—I was fifty-six lest birthdey, and have seen the world. I am a strong-minded man, and take in all the bluebooks. I have been up in a balloon, and have taken ont a patent for an improved steam cannon, which fires twenty boiling shot a minute. This will prove to you that I am a sensible, middleaged man, and both intellectual and courageous.
Therefore, sir, let me emtreat of you— in the name of blushing decency—to spare me a little of your valuable space in your excellent journal, which I often read at a friend's house.

"Have you ever been to Exmouth, sir? Perhape you have not. I have. I sm there now.
I leave to-morrow.

"As I write these lines
I am on the boil with indignation. I feel my teeth chatter like the lid of an empty cauldron, as the bubbles of rage rise spitting to my rim. This metaphor will explain to you the state of my feellage—my obseks burn as if they had been toasted.

I will be cool.

"Sir, I yesterday morning went out for a walk on the beach. It was half-past ten; and I remember this circumstance particularly, because I had my telescope with me. I al ways take it with me when I go on the beach. It is fitted with a night-glass.

"I was strolling along,
gaxing on the gay sozes, and humming — never mind what tune, though
I like to be minute. I directed my steps towards the bathingmachines. Judge of my horror when I saw before u pulsive form I ever bebeld.

"The women who wait upon the laddee' bathingchosen to assume a costume, so bold and repulsive sible to describe it. I make the attempt.

JULY 1, 1865.]

A SKETCH ON THE BEACH AT EX-

BEACH

Titerature.

MARRIED FLIRTATIONS; OR, THE TABLES.

THE TABLES.
THE last dying cateness of a deliciously dream whose weird notes the soul of Besthoven had pour stdness, were floating over the perfumed crowd the room of the fashionable Washington hotel; there we murmur of separating couples, and the ill-supp weary "wall-flowers" that follow in the wake (walls Kete Elwyn stood in the recess of the osrelessly with the faded jessamines and tube roose while her blue, lovely eyes wandered anxiously is another, evidently in quest of some familiar counter could not discover.

There were few more beautiful faces than her of festive crowd, where half the belies in the Union is diamonds and bright eyes to dazzle the grave polymakers of the land. Bather beneath the mediu fragile delicacy of a fatry, her complexion had the tribloom that you look for only in children, while he golden hair lay over her somewhat low forchead is of amber. Very dark blue eyes, translutent as first water, and a little crimson month, curved gave additional plquancy to her fare, and altog perfect a specimen of the radiant blonds as one of ploture gallery, or a novel.

Buddenly her cheeks blossomed into roses, and inance brightened, as a tall and rather elegant to languidly suntered towards her.

"Charley, I thought you were never coming!"

"I've only been down in the supper-room for my dar—sorry you've missed me. Anything in the company of the company of the proper company of the company of the proper company of the company o

"I've only been down in the supper-room for my dear—sorry you've missed me. Anything now?"

"Yes—do get my shawl and fan, and we'll gatter one, and I'm completely tired out."

"Ouldn't, my dear," said Mr. Elwyn, breaking from his wide's bouquet, and fastening it jauntly hole of his coat. "I am engaged for three waltes still. Miss Raymond would never forgive a her."

Kate's lip curled kaughtily, and a deeper shade into her cheek.

"Jealous. el.?" laughed her husband, pattin lightly. "Now, Kate, that's a little too silly of know that at a place like this a man is expected generally agreeable to the laddes? Pray, my dea absurd and ridiculous as te——"

"And so." interrupted Mrs Elwyn, bitterly, "and convenience are secondary to Miss Baymond "The green-syed monster certainly has invadiove!" said Mr. Elwyn. "Upon my word, I hyou credit for a little more common sense."

"Oharles," said Kate, quietly, and without he scrossen of his tone, "I am weary of this round I am sick of the tumults and vanities of Wash take me home?"

"Why, Kate! after all your auxisty to pass a ventre of social and political life! You have be oluded that it was put on her husbs clothes by mistake. I'm a living man, had only a coarse over her shoul clothes by mistake As I'm a living man, she had only a coarse shirt over her shoulders. Alarmed by being chrised in this manner by so strange a female, I fled. "On speaking to a friend of mine—he's in the timber business, and makes by it a spleadid income — he explained the mystery. It appears, sir, that the bathing women at this place have adopted the male costume. My friend led ms back to the spot, where he pointed out half-a-dozen of these macculine nymphs. I was completely petrified. They looked like an assembly of Assyrian gods; you know what I mean—the detites with bird's heads. This is all very proper at the Crystal Palace, but by Jove, sir, it's too strong for Exmouth.

"Now, sir, pray exer—"Now, sir, pray exer—""Now, sir, pray exer—""">Now, sir, pray exer—"">Now, sir, pray e

"Now, sir, pray exercise your powerful inficence to stay this bloomer manis. Let me sak you, is the female form adapted to pantaloous? The flowing robe hes fits charme; but, in the name of Venus, let us rise up to a man against this trouser movement.

"I heard a lady—a remarkably interesting creature—scream when one of these wet poses plastiques approached and asked her to bathe. Poor creative.

plastiques approached and saked her to bathe. Poor asked her to bathe. Poor oreature, her answer was worthy of her. "Sir," she said, "if you annoy me again, I shall give you in charge." Is this to be borne? I for one will not bear it.—I am, air, yours, &c., "JAMES ORACKENY." NOFE BY EDITOR.—We were so startled by this violent letter, that we instantly despatched

A SKETCH ON THE BEACH AT MOUTH.

A CRUSTY old visitor to Exmouth writes to us

A CRUSTY old visitor to Exmouth writes to us as follows:—

"Bir,—I was fity-six lest birthday, and have seen the world. I am a strong-minded man, and take in all the bluebooks. I have been up in a balloon, and have taken out a patent for an improved steam cannon, which fires twenty boiling shot a minute. This will prove to you that I am a senaible, middleaged man, and both intellectual and courageous. Therefore, six, let me antreat of you—in the name of blushing decency—to spare me a little of your valuable space in your excellent journal, which I often read at a friend's house.

"Have you ever been to Exmouth, sir? Fer-

"Have you ever been to Exmouth, sir? Per-

"HAVE YOU EVER DEEN TO EXHAUST AND THE MEDICAL TO THE MEDICAL THE walk on the beach. It was half-past ten; and I remember this circumstance particularly, because I had my telescope with me. I always take it with me when I go on the beach. It is fitted with a night-glass.

"I was strolling along, raning on the zwy scene, gazing on the gay scene, and humming — never mind what true, though

mind what tune, though
I like to be minute. I directed my steps towards the bathing-machines. Judge of my horror when I saw before me the most repulsive form I ever beheld. pulsive form I ever rension.

"The women who wait upon the ladies" bathing-machines haver chosen to assume a costume, so bold and repulsive that it is impossible to describe it. I make the attempt.

12°CO MELLIDER

A SKETCH ON THE BEACH AT EXMOUTH.

"To be minute. A form attired in coarse treusers, with some-thing on its head like a cowl, approached. I retreated. By its counded form, and peculiar construction of body, I knew it was a female. It followed use closely. I saw at once that it wished to speak with me. I didn't wish to be spoken to by it. I con-rally adopted. With top-boots it would have a very pleasing effect.

Literature.

MARRIED FLIRTATIONS; OR, TURNING THE TABLES.

THE Last dying cadness of a deliciously dreamy waltz, across whose weird notes the soul of Besthoven had poured out its magic sadness, were floating over the perfumed crowd that filled the ball-room of the fashlousble Washington hotel; there was the stir and murmur of separating comples, and the ill-suppressed yawns of weary "wall-flowers" that follow in the wake of every brilliant waltz. Kate Elwyn staod in the recess of the window, playing carelessly with the faded jessamines and tube roses of her bouquet, while her blue, lovely eyes wandered anxiously from one piace to another, evidently in quest of some familiar countenance which they could not discover.

another, evidently in quest of some familiar countenance which they could not discover.

There were few more beautiful faces than her own, even in that festive crowd, where half the belies in the Union had brought their diamonds and bright eyes to dazzle the grave politicians and law-makers of the land. Bather beneath the medium size, with the fragile delicacy of a fairy, her complexion had the transparent waxen bloom that you look for only in children, while her heavy bands of golden hair lay over her somewhat low forchead in rippling waves of amber. Very dark blue eyes, translucent as a sapphire of the first water, and a little crimon month, curved like Gupid's bow, gave additional piquancy to her face, and altogother she was as perfect a specimen of the radiant blonds as one often sees, out of a picture gallery, or a novel.

Suddenly her cheeks blossomed into roses, and her whole countenance brightened, as a tall and rather elegant looking gentleman languidly santered towards her.

"Charley, I thought you were never coming?"

"I've only been down in the supper-room for a few minutes, my dear—sorry you've missed me. Anything I can do for you now?"

my dear—surfy fourth and send we'll go up-stairs. It's after one, and I'm completely tired out."
"Couldn't my dear," said Mr. Elwyn, breaking a moss rate-bad from his wife's bouquet, and fastening it jauntily into the batton-hole of his coat. "I am engaged for three waltzes and a quadrille still. Miss Raymond would never forgive me for deserting her."

her."

Kate's lip ourled haughtily, and a deeper shade of oriman stole into her cheek.

"Jealous eh?" laughed her husband, patting her bright hair lightly. "Now, Kate, that's a little too silly of you. Don't you know that at a piace like this a man is expected to make himself generally agreeable to the ladies? Pray, my dear, don't become so absurd and ridiculous as to—abund and ridiculous as te—"

"And so." interrupted Mrs. Elwyn, bitterly, "your wife's wishes and convenience are secondary to Miss Baymond's will."
"The green-syed monster certainly has invaded your peace, my love!" said Mr. Elwyn. "Upon my word, I have always given you credit for a little more common sense."

Jove : said Ar. Etwyn. Open my way, you credit for a little more common sense."

"Charles," said Kate, quietly, and without heeding the careless sarcass of his tone, "I am weary of this round of senseless galety. I am sick of the tumults and vanities of Washington. Will you take me nome;"

"Why, Kate! after all your anxiety to pass a winter in this great centre of social and political life! You have been teasing me ever since we were married to indulge you with a season in Wash-since we were married to indulge you with a season in Washington."

"I know it, Charles," she meekly answered, trying to repress the tears that were brimming in her eyes; "but I have at last learned the folly of seeking real pleasure anywhere but in the precincts of one's own home. My tasts for gatety is entirely satisfied, and you can't imagine how homesick I feel—how anxions to see the dear little ones, once again. When will you take me home, Oharles?"

"Nart week perhaps my love—or the week after if you posi-

"Next week, perhaps, my love-or the week after, if you positively insist upon it."

"Ob, Charles! why not go to-morrow?"
"Impossible, Kake! I am positively engaged for every day this week for drives and excursions in the neighbourhood of the this week for division and the color of the color of the color of these arrangements."

"No, my dear, I suppose not," said Elwyn, lazlly. "Did you imagine I was going to come and ask your permission every time I wanted to drive out with a lady, or smoke a cigar with two or three colors."

wanted to drive out with a lady, or smoke a cigar with two or three gentlemen?"

Kate's lip quivered, and she turned quietly away. Oharles Elwyn looked after her with an amused expression in his eye and a half smile on his lip.

"She's jealous, as I live!" he muttered. "Jealous of Aurora Raymond and the pretty widow. Well, let her pout it out at her leisure—it will never do to encourage this sort of thing."

If he could but have seen her a few moments afterwards (just when he was whirling through the walts with Miss Raymond's midnight curls floating over his shoulders) sobbing in the silence of her own dimly-lighted room, the golden hair all unloosed from hair-pin and jewelled comb, and the blue eyes looking like morning-glories drowned in rain. Well, perhaps it would have done him good, perhaps not. It is not always best to let a man know the full extent of his power over that miserable little captive his wife—it is astonishing how much the sex delights in tormenting its victim. There is one blessed avenue of relief always open to womankind, however —a good cry! No wonder that Kate Elwyn felt better when she had wiped away the shower of tears and brushed back the lovely rippling tresses from her fevered forebead.

"What shall I do?" she murmured to herself, deluging her handkerohief in rose-water, and trying vaily to cool her burn-low ever." what count I do? Oh. I wish I had never come

"What shall I do? and trying valoly to cool her burn-ing eyes; "what ought I to do? Oh, I wish I had never come away from home—it is a judgment on me for leaving my dear little babes in the care of cold hirelings! I was so happy before I ever thought of his hollow, deceitful whirlpool of fashion!"

She burst into fresh floods of tears as she remembered her hus-Band's last words.

"It was could of him to speak in that cold, sneering way to me," it was could of him to speak in that cold, sneering way to me," it was could of Have I lost all the spells he used to tall me I possessed? If he only knew how these things hurt me, I am sure he would act in a far different manner."

would act in a far different manner."

She shrank involuntarily back, as if some rude hand had struck her, as Miss Baymond's clear, metallic laugh suddenly floated up, audible through the closed door of her room. And then she set her compressed lips together, and a new look came into the liquid depths of her wet blue eyes.

The gilded hour hand of the carved Parisian clock on the mantel had travelled nearly twice round the circlet of enamelled figures before Kate Elwyn litted her gaze from the bunches of velvet roses in the carpet. What was she pondering on?

"Sitting up, eh, Katé? Why I thought you were 'tired te death?' said Mr. Elwyn, as he entered the room, and his wife laid down her book and welcomed him with a bright, careless smile.

"Yes, I've been so much interested in that delightful book," exclaimed Kate, enthusiastically. "I do wish I knew whether Sir Guy gets that property or not!"

"She has got over her sulks amazingly quick," was the husband's internal comment, as he kicked off his boots and lazily unfastened his lavender silk neck-tie. . .

"Oh, thank you, Mr. Elwyn, I've had such a charming ride!"
And Aurora Raymond sprang lightly from the carriage step, one tiny gloved hand resting on Mr. Elwyn's arm, the other holding up the folds of her violet velvet mantle. He touched his hat, gallantly, as she tripped up the hotel steps, all smiles and dimples.
"I wonder if Kate would like a turn round Jackson-square before dinner," he said to himself, consulting his gold watch. "I'll run up and see—poor little thing!"
He sprang up the stairs, two steps at a time, and burst into his wife's room.
"Put on your bonnet, puss, and we'll have a ride." he ex-

Put on your bonnet, puss, and we'll have a ride," he ex-imed. "Hallo! she isn't here—what the mischief does this claimed.

mean?"

No, she was not there—neither was her blue velvet hat with the white ostrich plume, nor the magnificent Cashmere shawi that had been sent over from India for her wedding present just five years ago—and Mr. Elwyn came slowly down stairs sgain, feeling very much inclined to get into a passion.

"Do you know where my wife is?" he saked Mrs. Artworth, a lady who spent one half her time at the hotel windows and the other half in catechising the servants, and who, consequently, knew all that was to be known concerning people's outgoings and incomings generally.

"She's out riding in Colonel Warrington's barouchs—been gone ever since morning," returned the gossiping matron, with great promptitude ever since morning," returned the gossiping matter, when a promptitude

"Out riding!" Elwyn's brow contracted.
"Strange—very strange," he muttered, "to drive out in that sort of way without so much as saying a word to me. I always fancied that Warrington a puppy, and I'm sure of it now."
He went down and dismissed his equipage, and then returned to the drawing-room, as restless as the Wandering Jew. After one or two moody turns across the long apartment, he sat gloomly down in the window recess. Even Aurora Raymond's pretty lisping chatter could not interest him now. "Would Kate never come?" he thought, as he looked for the fortieth time at his watch.

waton.

She came at last, just in time to run up-stairs for a hurried dinner-toilet—come, smilingtand lovely, with her hair blown about by the fresh wind, and her eyes sparkling radiantly. Elwyn—dog in the manger that he was—could have knocked Colonel Warnington down for the involuntary gaze of admiration with which he looked after the fair companies.

down for the involuntary gaze of admiration with which he scales after his fair companion.

Presently Mrs. Kate re-appeared, in a magnificent dress of lustrous silver green silk, lighted up by the flash of emeralds at her throat and wrists, and frosted green mosses drooping from her hair. "Why have you put on that odious green dress? asked Elwyn. catching at some slight pretext as an escape-valve for his ill humour. "You know how much I dislike green."

"On well," said Kate, nonchalantly, "you are so fidgetty, Charles. What difference can it possibly make to you whether I wear green or yellow? It is entirely a by-gone fashion for husbands and wives to study one another's whims, a la Darby and

We dress entirely to please the public, the gay world, you and I put on this silk to gratify Mr. Garnett—he admires

There is a many of the series of the control of the of exasperation.

"Allow me to congratulate you on your freasure of a wife, sir!" said Colonel Warrington. "I have always known she was a beauty, but I never before appreciated her claims to be called a wit."

Elwyn glared speechlessly at the polite colonel, who was evidently surprised at the ungracious reception of his little compliment.

dently surprised at the ungracious reception of his little compliment.

"Just what I might have expected!" he mattered to himself, plucking fiercely at his moustache. "What the deuce did I bring her here for, if I didn't want every fool in society to fall down and worship her?"

"Would you like a drive after dinner, Kate?" he asked one evening, after about three days spent in this very edifying manner.

"I couldn't possibly this evening, dear," she said, adjusting the wreaths of try that depended from her shining hair. "We've arranged such a nice moonlight party to ride out to the Navy Yard."

Yard."
"Well, what's to prevent me from driving you there?" asked Mr.

"Well, what's to proves he is all the cooling. "I've promised to go in Mr. Garnett's carriage. He is so delightfully agreeable, and I like him so much."

"The dickens you do," growled Elwyn, his face elongating and grow ag dark.

"Ent l'Il tell you what you might do, if you pleased," suggested Kate. uppocently. "Miss Raymond would like to go, no doubt, or Mrs. Everest; and there can be no possible objection to an extra carriage in the party, so that—"
"Hang Miss Raymond and Mrs. Everest!" ejsculated the irate husband.

Mrs. Everest; and there can be no possible objection to an extra carriage in the party, so that——"

"Hang Miss Baymond and Mrs. Everest!" ejaculated the irate husband.

"With all my heart, my dear," said Kate. "Only, you see, it's quite impossible for me to break my promise to Mr. Garnett"

Mr. Elwyn's temper was by no means improved when he stood on the hotel steps and watched the merry party drive off, their gay volces and jubilant laughter echoing through the serone moonlight, like a mockery of his own gloomy reflections. He had never felt so piterly louely and forlorn in the whole course of his life.

"Dear me, what a beantiful evening for a ride!" sighed Annorsh Raymond, looking sweetly up from her volume of poems, as Mr. Elwyn re antered the drawing-room, looking not unlike a man who has just had a molar extracted.

But he did not take the hint, acting as Miss Raymond afterwards indignantly remarked, "more like a bear than a man," and sixing morosely down to the perusal of the newspapers. Alas, for the midnight ourls and Oriental eyes—their spell was broken!

How long the slow creeping hours seemed before Kate came back! Long ere the sound of carriage wheels grated on the pavement before the door, he went up to his own room, and tried, uselessly enough, to aware himself with books and letter-writing. All his efforts were unavailing; between him and every occupation to which he turned crept one gloomy thought—a sore pang—to think that Kate was happy without his society—that she never missed his absent voice and smite.

"I wonder if I'm jealous!" he mantered to himself, still placking fiercely at the dark monstache. "It's not an agreeable senestion, at all events! I wonder if Kate felt so whenever I flirted with Aurora and the widow!"

Would the time ever come when Kate's heart would be estranged from him?—estranged by his own idle and absurd conduct?—when the loving, sensitive nature would cease to respond to his touch? The very fancy was agony!

He was wrapped in these gleomy meditations, when the door op on what is the matter?"

"Men what is the matter?"
"My heart aches, Kate," he said, sadly; "it aches to think that my wife has chased to love me!"
She came to his side, and threw her arms about his neck with careasing affection.

"Charles, what do you mean?"

"I mean, Kats, that when you desert me for the society of others, and seems to pay any regard to my wishes, I can some to but one conclusion."

eoaclusion."

"And that?"

"Is that you love use no longer."

"Gharles," said Kats, smiling archly up into his face, "does it grieve you to have me prefer the society of others to your own?"

"It breaks my heart, Kate," he said, passionalely.

"Then, dearest, let us make a bargain. Let us allow Miss Baymond and Mrs Everest to console themselves with Colonel Warningson and Mr. Garnett, while we are happy with one another.

Shall it be so?"

"Kate your heave been adding a part!" hall it be so?"
"Kats; you have been acting a part!"
"Of course I have. Did you suppose for a single moment that !

"Of course I have. Did you suppose for a single moment that I was in earnest?"

The loving kieses she showered upon his brow dispelled every lurking shadow from the husband's heart, and he felt how inexpressibly dear his young wife was to him.

In the next day's train Mr. and Mrs Eiwyn left Washington, mutually convinced that they had had quite arough of the gay capital. There were two unmistakably good effects consequent on the sojours, however: Kate was estified to remain quietly at home for the rest of her life, and Charles was completely cured of every latent tendency to flirt!

THE SILEST AMBASSADOR.—Some of the Paris journals relate the following:—"A curious incident marked the official reception which recently took place at the Tuileries on the occasion of the Emperor's return. His Majesty, after having received the congraniations of the diplomatic body, approached the new Turkish ambassador, Saiyet Pasha, and addressed to him some kind remark. The ambassador bowed, but without making any reply. The Emperor added that he was siwajs desirous of living on the best terms with the Porte. The ambassador bent a little lower, but still kept silent. At a third phrase from the Emperor the envoy bowed to the ground, but still without opening his mouth. Every one, including the Emperor, was astonished, and yet the silence of Saivet Pasha was very natural, as he does not understand French."

was very natural, as he does not understand French."

The Princepers of a Good Har.—A hat is the index to the obstacler and condition of the wearer, a proof of taste and sense—in fact, a good hat shows that a man his a proper respect for the provailing fashion of progress and temprove ment in the outtoms of civilised society. Walker noted half-guisse, hats are unequalised to quality and style; the shapes being in every variety, are suitable to all corners. To improve the memory it would be well to repeat frequently tast Walkers else Mannfactory is No. 48. Orewford-street (corner of Seymour-place), Marylebone.—(Advertisement)

tisement.]
No Bour Conflers without a Willook AND Gibbs, SERVING MACHINE Supple, sempase, efficient forable, and toleries. Warrands of forable and toleries. Warrands of forable and toleries. Warrands of the forable and toleries. Properties from an application, at 136, Begandstreet—(Advertisement.)

FATHER IGNATIUS AT ST. MARTIN'S HALL.

THE BUCKTURE AT ST. MARITIES I HALLITHE REV. PARTHER JUGGING SETVICES AT ST. MARITIES IN ASSOCIATE
THE REV. PARTHER JUGGING SETVICES AT ST. MARITIES HALL LONG-CORE.
OR SUNDAY, to collect funds towards the expenses of the chapel at Norwich. That in the avern on was at three reserved seeds.
Norwich. That in the avern on was at three reserved seeds.
Norwich. That in the avern on was at three reserved seeds.
Norwich. That in the avern on was at three reserved seeds.
Norwich. That in the avern on was at three reserved seeds.
The majority of three present were laddes, and persons connected three and orderly audience, and also for the purposes of the chapel. The majority of three present were laddes, and persons connected three worse the cross. Marities and persons connected three worse the cross. Marities and the ladder of the ladder, and persons connected three worse the cross. Marities and three three three three worse the cross. Marities and three three three worse the cross. Marities and three with two Medical three three three with two Medical three with three three parties and three with three parties and three with three parties. The seeds of the Emendetic seeds and three grates. Organics. Three parties and three

SCIENTIFIC AMUSEMENTS AND PRESENTS.—We recommend our readers who require any Electrical, Galvanic Chemical and other apparatus to apply to W. Faulkner, operative chemics, 46. Endell-street Long Acre, W.O., on same side as the Baths. The newly invested Magneto-Electric Coll, which requires neither acid nor battery, and is both useful for amusements, and particularly recommended in all cases of disease where Galvanism is useful, is sold as the to 5ts. It is very portable and is fluted in a neat mahogany case. Ottor Colls with Battery and Endeles, complete from Its. 64, to 30s. The San Light or Magnesium Wire, manufactured by W. Faulkner, pausesses unusual brilliancy. It is sold at 24 and 31 per for, east free by post on receipt of a stamped evelope. A large a northward of second-hand Camora Lectaes, Magic Linterna and Electrical Apparatus and Batteries of every description. The greatest novely of the day is the Centrifugal Shace Engine make of glass. It is practic fathy in as un organism, it is allied with perfune or water, and host being applied, it works with great rapidity, and diffuses its perfune in any place, prior 3s. 5d. 6r. pages 5s. 5d.—[Admitissusse].

THE PRACTICAL GARDENER.

GARDENING OPERATIONS FOR THE WEER.

Flower Garden.—Where hyacinths, tulips, shemones, att, are taken out, fill up the vacancies with budding-out plants. Give rhododendrous, azaleas, and other American plants pleaty of water. Thin out late sown annuals as soon as they are well above ground. Put in cuttings of chrysenthemums, and plant out the most forward eighteen inches spart. Coutinue to put in pipings and outings of plaks. Propagate Ohina and other roses by cuttings, selecting wood of the present year to be stuck under hand-glasses. Give fuschias, carnations, picotees, &c, plenty of water. Trim hedges and water lawns.

KITCHEN GARDEN.—Continue to plant out all descriptions of greens after a shower. Sow last crop of dwarf kidney beans and Mazagan broad beans; thin carrots, parenips, and hoe and thin turnips. Bow peas, onlone, endive, parely, radishes, and water abundantly. Stop main abocts of vegetable marrow; sow a little more cabbage seed at once if required. Sow seed for cucumbers, or put in a few cuttings for succession till Christmas.

FRUTT GARDEN.—Continue to search for the duried leaf in apple and other trees. It should be cut off and completely crushed or burned. Continue to cut away useless after shoots of wall trees, and fasten in and retain regular shoots. GARDENING OPERATIONS FOR THE WEEK burned. Continue to out away useless after shoots of wall trees, and fasten in and retain regular shoots.

WATERLOO FESTIVAL AT BRUNSWICK.

"Brunswick, June 19.

"Our Waterloo fastival came off yesterday, and as I think some acount of it may interest you, I send you a slight shetoh of the proceedings. Priday, being the fiftieth anniversary of Quaire Brag, where Friedrich Willehm tought his last battle and died the death of a hero, alter tiging the life of one, was celebrated by a soferm on the died service at 63 on the evening, and by all bells in Brunswick billing the passing knell for half an hour. The Oathedralpiec was crowded, and there was no possibility of getting within the doors, awas officers being obliged to stand outside. From every house huge a flag or banner of some kind. But in every cleer, whather the gelours were those of the town or country, of Brunswick to Hanover, the long black weepers of orape never falled, marking thus the mouraing of the Brunswickers for their galliest and unforgotten duke. In many cases there was simply a black flag in solitary gloom, hanging from the staff, which, however, like the crape weeper, was to be removed the next day in order to give place to the ducal, municipal, or national colour. Saturday passed over very quietly. It was bitterly cold, a bitting, north-east wind blowing up clouds of dust and searching every one bones; yet many perform went to see the veterans arrive at the railway stain at 6 30. Mills hundred odd had announced themselves—an almost humble humber when one thinks of the age of all; yet years come and gone since the great battle was a summer of the same the strength of the corps give their work and the since the great battle was summer to the house and name of the same than the product of the corps give their orders of the form of the red great battle of the corps give their orders of the form of the red great battle of the corps give their orders of the form of the red great battle of the red great battle

These were both only Waterloo men.

A Daring Deserter.—An extraordinary case of desertion courred last week at Colmar, Hant-Bhin, France, where the 3rd Regiment of the Lancers is in garrison. A private of that regiment, named Huisson, when on duty at the entrance of the barracks between eleven and twelve at night, took advantage of the confusion caused by the simultaneous entrance of a number of men who had received pervoission to stay out to slip superceived into one of the stables, where he saddled the horse belonging to the chief veterinary surgeon, and countrived to leave the barracks by a back gate, the key of which he had taken from the guard-house. His flight was not discovered till five in the morning, when despatches were sent off in all directions ordering his arrest. Soon after a telegram arrived from Neaf-Brisach stating that Huisson had alighted at the principal hotel of that town at three o'clock, where he ordered a good breakfast to be prepared for the officers of his regiment who, he said, would soon be there. He also called for a breakfast for himself, which he are and ordered to be placed to the account of the officers, and then rode off towards the bridge which separates the Freuch town of Neuf-Brisach from the Swiss town Neuf-Brisach. On reaching the bridge, he was stopped by a sentinel and ordered to show his papers. He pretended to feel for them in his pocket, but the moment the scatteries tended to feel for them in his pocket, but the moment the scatteries and gallopped across the bridge into Switzerland. The French is connected to be the Bedgatche in Duk, derniment as and and account the horse the next day at Saint-Loccia, and it was given up to them by the Swiss authorities, but the deserter had escaped into the interior, and nothing has been heard of kim stance. It is onnequence of the Bedgatche in Duk, derniment is onnequence of the Bedgatche in Duk, derniment is onnequence of the Bedgatche in Duk, derniment is on the deserter had a contract the secant secant secant in January Green i

Varieties.

STERN CHASERS - The "erms" of the law.
A JONE without salt (Attis) is like beer without

A JOER Without sait (Attist) is like beer without malt.

New Book.—History of Gresse, on Oils Welt that Ends Well. By Itsis Robsum—We hadgur a grand sell in commerce with the above.

ALWAYS try to have a worthy competitor. Set the hate to ran with the tortoles, and he will probably fall asleep and lose.

The spirit of the sga, or the accident of pleasure and recessity, can in general either break us with its wheel or twiss us around is.

Miscontum is fond of the scotety of the lither and a second call.

Hork is always liberal and they libit tritil her promises make a second call.

Hork is always liberal and they libit tritil her promises make little scrapts of reveiling to-day on the profits of to-day.

Great books are dead men, yet gierified ones; and their purits will ever hold themselves as their living relatives.

Many persons, confined in a close place with an investrate amount of the analyse. As farmess balleve it most advantageous to so with mit; so the first shood of education should fall in the first and thickest mist of life.

Weat reason may not go to school to the wisdom of been appeared to cannot teach us?

Love of Distriction—If the love of disting-

Love or Distinction.—If the love of distinct

LOVE OF DISTINCTION.—If the love of distinction be the prevailing aim in a man's character, it singlif at eny rise be some worthy and notable distinction.

Her Journ.—Curran's reling passion was his joke. In his last illness, his physician observing in the morning that his seemed to cough with more difficulty, he answered. "That is rather surprising, as I have been practising all night."

DODGING THE BESTONSIBILITY.—"Sir!" said Fierylaces, the lawyer, to an unwiffing witness, "Bir, do yap say, prox your cash, that Blimpking is a dishonest man?" "I didn't bay he wa; ever accused of being an honest man, did I?" replied Pipkins:

Discouts Good —"When I am in pecuniary difficulties," said a pensive basis rup, "my garden, my fig work, all fresh and aperling in the morning, console my heart?—"Indeed? asked his sympathising friend; "I should have thought they would remind you of your trouble; for, like your bills, they are all over dees."

To KERF EGGS.—M. Bournet recommends in its selice, a French journal of agriculture, the following midthed, of preserving, eggs:—Dissolve in two-thirds of warm clive oil one-third of bees'wax, and cover each gay completely with a thir layer of this pounde with the end of the finger.

in two-thirds of warm oftwe oil one third of beestwar, and cover each egy completely with a thin layer of this pointed with the end of the finger. The egg-shell by degrees absorbs the oil, and such the such that the wax, which hermetoally seals them. If, Bournof affirms that be has ghost not exposed to not great extrames of temperature. He thinks also that the germ may in this manner be have extramed to the same of the sam

Discourant to Morness.—Mrs. Window's Spothing Syrup for Children feething, which has been in use in America over thinky years, and very highly recommended by medical map, is nibw sold in this country, with full directions on each bottle. It is pleasant to take and syrt is all cisety; it souther the child and sixes it mest, solteins the full and sixes it mest, solteins the full alias all and resident remedy for dysentery at diarrhose, whether at sing from secting for diversities of diarrhose, whether at sing from secting of dysentery at diarrhose, whether at sing from secting of dysentery at diarrhose, whether at sing from secting of dysentery at diarrhose, whether at sing from secting of dysentery at diarrhose, whether at sing from secting of dysentery at lands of the diarrhose is not the outside wrapper. Seld by all she mistake at is, lift per bythe. London depot, 208, High Holborn.—[Adsertisement]

Who Would have Thought It? - One half the annual expense of shoring children saved, if their botte are but chased with the natest Copper Too Carr, said scholesale, or by the single gate, by H. H. Heath, 17, St. Martin a le-Grand, London - [Advertishment.]

TO TRADESMEN AND OTHERS REQUIE:

A BOOK FOR Abla Now ready, price 3d., by post 6d., thirty-two pages, in his elegan

THE GOLDEN BOOK : a Guide to Health Amount of the state of the stat

Just published, post-free for two stamps,
WONDERFUL MEDIOAL DISCOVERY, with Lecal Means of Sail Care, Without Medicine.
Nervy: Power-Manly Vigour, fix Farrest Research in twenty day, without mineral polygon, fix Farrest Research in twenty day, which prove evals failures. Sant 720 on receipt of two stams, by W. Hill, Eq. M.A., Berkelley Resse, South-arescent, Ru will-square, Louil n. W.C.

URE YOURSELF (without medicity out feet).
"The Patrat An varatus" & a. on on sominal weakness a cree disacters weaking of the organs, &c. Sont for one stamp by H. James, &c., Percy Cloues, Bedford square, London.
R.B.—Modicine Alone can Never Cure.

TOLLOWAY'S PILLS -The Perfection of 3. Modic on Moring can suppose this reterative of the invalid; for the makes he was suppose the reterative of the invalid; for the makes he was the reterance to be required. The market is the makes a suppose of the reterance to be required, and smallly eap applies for a purpose. They obsaid to know an account of the late of the late of the same of the same of the late of the late of the same of the same of the late of the

Varieties.

STREE CHASERS - The "erms" of the law.
A JONE without talk (attio) is like beer without

A JOHN WILLOWS SAIS (ARROYS INC. DELEW WOLL THAT THE METERS Well. By Price Roberts — We degin to grand sell in connexion with this above.

ALWAYS try to have a worthy competitor. Set the hape to ran with the fortoice, and he will probably fall asleep and lose.

The spirit of the age, or the accident of pleasure and necessity, can in general either break us with his wheel or twine us around it.

Ringonrulus is fond of the acciding of the filmatured. Treat is good-numouredly, and it won't make a second call.

Horn is always liberal, and they that trist her promises make little sorropic of reveiling to-day

Hork is always liberal and they that trust her promises make little scrupts of revelling to-day on the profits of to-day.

Great books are dead men, yet glorified ones; and their pupils will ever hold themselves as their living relatives.

Many persons, confined in a close place with an investrate smoker, think, that, it requires less fortifieds to atom. Are than amore, as fermess believe it most ad wantageous to sow in with so the first facilities of the first facilities of the first facilities of the first facilities of the wisdom of bees, anta and spiders? What wise hand teaches them what reason cannot teach us?

Love or Derincrion.—If the love of distinc-tion be the prevailing ain in a man's character, it should at shy rate be some worthy and nomble distinction.

distinction.

Hes Jour.—Ourran's rating passion was his joke. In his last illness, his physician observing in the individual plant he seemed to count with more distinctly, he answered, "That is rather surprising, as I have been practising all night."

Dodging the Bestonsellity.—"Sir!" said Fierylaces, the lawyer, to an unwiffing wintess, "Sir, do yay say, thou your oath, that Blumpkins is a distinguent man?" "I dight bay he wan ever acquired of being an honest man, did I?" replied Pipkins.

is a distropest man?" "I dight say he was ever acquised of being an honest man, did I?" replied Pickins.

Dappan Goop —"When I am in pecuniary diffective, said a peculiar bankrup, "my garden, my flower, all fresh and sparfing in the morning, console my heart"—"Indeed!" asked his sympathising friend; "I should have thought they would remind you of your trouble; for, like your bills, they are all over dee."

To Karp Ecce.—M Bourned recommends in Le 28tier, a Friench journal of agriculture, the following midlind of preserving, aggs:—Dissolve in two-thirds of warm clive oil one-third of bestwar, and cover each egg completely with a thin layer of this pounde with the end of the finger. The egg-abell by degree absorbs the oil, and son of its porce becomes filled with the wax, which hermstoally seals them. M. Bournof affirms that he has alter eggs bent two years in this manner, in a place not exposed to the greet extremes of temperature. He thinks also that the germ may in this manner be preserved for a considerable time.

Direction to Morness.—Mrs. Wireley's Spething Syrup for Children Seelales, which has been in use in America over thirty years, and very highly recommended by medical map, is now sold in this annutry, with full directions on each bottle. It is pleasant to take and high in all stick; it couldness the child, and siyes it rest, sottens the fund, will alige all allocates the child, and reject wind in the stomach, and regulates the bowest, and is all exception remedy for dyseniery at diarrhose, whether arising from teathing or diversities the for cases. The fac summs of "Ourtis and Perkins, New York and London." It on this contide wrapper. Soid by all abstincts at is, lift per bottle. London depot, 205, High Holborn.—[Advertisement]

Who Would have Thought It? - One half the annual expense of shoring children saved, if their botts are purchased with the patent Copper To Carr, seld wholesale, or by the shoring sale, by S. H. Heabt, 17, St. Martin's le-Grand, London, seldouring-ment?

TO TRADESEEN AND UTHERS ESQUELONDON AND WESTADASTER FOAR AND DISCOURT COMPANY
THOM AND TO ALONG THAT DISTRICT.
THOM AND TO ALONG THAT DISTRICT.
THOM AND TO ALONG THAT DISTRICT.
THE COMPANY WERELT OR STREWER.
THE COMPANY WERELT OF A PT & A.
THAT ANY OTHER COMPANY.
THE ROOF ADVIATAGEOUS THAT SEED OF INTERPOT THAN ANY OTHER COMPANY.
THE ROOF ADVIATAGEOUS THAT OF THE PERSON AND AND HOLD BUILDING OR STREET DAYS.
THOMPSON OF THE COMPANY.
THE STREET STREET DAYS. SERVERLY, THE STREET DAYS.

A SOOK FOR ALL. Now ready, prior 3d., by post 4d., thirty-two pages, in an elegan THE GOLDEN BOOK : & Guide to Health Happinss, and Long Life.

A most valuable little work, evidently from a profess; nal periodical statement of the contenting a variety of practical hartenetions conveyed in order. Being perfectly leadings and of gill classes after. Being perfectly leadingselve in its style it may a studied vantageously by the youth of both acces. — Svening Paper. Published by TROMAS WALTER, 8, Grafton-place, Euston-equate with Lecol Means of Self Core, Withouts Medicine.

Just published, post-free for two stamps,

VONDERFUL MEDICAL DISCOVERY,

Nervan Power-Manly Vignur, far Farfort Barvarstein in twenty days, without mineral police and the sp-salled remodifies of the day, which prove cavalar failures. Sant free on receipt of two stam is, by W Billi, Eq. M.A., Berkelby Edese, South-armsont, Bu self-square, Louit, n. W.C.

URE YOURSELF (without medicine or fere).

"The Partat Annaratus" &c. on or sominal weakness a cred disoders weating of the organ, &c. Sont for one stamp by H. James, May, Peory Chose, Bedford square, London.

N.B.—Modicine Alone can Never Cura.

TOLLOWAY'S PILLS—The Percetion of Medicine—Nothing can empone this reterior of the jovellist fac the manage by your it may, or be to where it would not manage by your it may, or be to where it would not manage they will adverse immediate to the requirement, and assaulty say implies the purpose. They observe it may not an assault say in the first the purpose of the purpose of manage of the first the purpose was the depose of manage of the purpose of the pur BOW BELLS:

BOW BELLS:

Part XI for July, now ready,

Price Singence.

An Megnat Coloured Steel Fachion Fishs for July.

The Part also contains the opening chapters of a pay Tale condition of "Charles the Luxbler Boom," and the combineshing of the Thirthew's Hystery," "The Only Daugh'er," and "The Home Angel" "The Only Daugh'er," and "The Home Angel" Hustery, "The Only Daugh'er," and "The Home Angel" "The Only Daugh'er," and "The Home Angel" "The Only Daugh'er, and "The Only Daugh'er, and "The Home Angel" "The Only Daugh'er, and "The Home Angel" "The Only Daugh'er, and "The Only Daugh'er, and "The Home Angel" "The Only Daugh'er, and "The Only Daugh'er, and "The Home Angel" "The Home Angel" "The H

BOW BELLS.

BOW BELLS.

No. 48, Price One Peens, now ready.

OLARINGT, MITTARY. A Love Story. Continuation of. Himprays.

Blenbein Patec, the Residence of the Dake of Mariborough (Picture que Shingan).

Adventures National Octomic and Outlone Packs: The Fourth Voyage of Columbus; Madifeiranean Sharks; Soonge-Divers, Geoa.

THE ONLY DACHTER—Continuation of Himstrated.

Notices to Correspondents.

Little Things (Essay).

The Fars Arm:—The Farm-Yard. From a Painting

L'ttle Things (Essay).

THE FARE AREA: The Farm Yard. From a Painting by Mr. Weir.

Yotkess Pack THE LOREST BOOK — Continuation of limitrated.

Voters Prof. The Lorent Book — Continuation of limitrated.

Portrait and Memotr of Samuel Warren, Q.C. Charity (P. em by Eliza Cook).

My Pretty Sister. Complete Tale.

Miccallarious articula, the Partrait Capt. Chiglis of the Penny Postage; Bonne, Lidase About Love; Hules in Making Preents; E.gland's Industry.

Household Receipts.

Varieties.

Sayings and Doings.

Our Own Sphing.

Munic:—Soeg.—"To England's Fertile Sheres I Come World by C. Lieley. Composed by W. V. Wallace This Laddies. FAGES

Continue.

Fan'ions for July, with Explanations of Steel Coloured P ate issued with this namber, price One Penny, at the opinion of the purphysis.

Feit Sincks. Interfaced.

Partraits in Mandatawon:—
Bodder for July and Salde.

Partraits in Mandatawon:—
Bodder for July and Salde.

Partraits in Mandatawon:—
Bodder for July and Salde.

Strips for Window Cartains.

Strips for Window Curtains. Instructions in Tailing for Juventies, with a Dia-Modelline is Wax:— The Phik Blue and London Pelde, with Four Dis-London: J. Drozs, 318, Strand.

In some equence of the great demend for this Brau-titul Engraving, a new edition has been issued of THE BATTLE OF WATERLOO. Drawn by that collebrated artist, Josef Gillages. The parante tose surses 30 inches by 38, is convenily printed on plate paper structured for framing, and may be considered, one of the figure specimens of Wood-Engraving ever presented to the pablic PRICE ONE PENNY.

London: J. Droke, 312. Strand, and all Booksellers.

THE BRITISH DRAMA. THE WORM OF WES WOOD SELECTION DESCRIPTION DESCRIPTION

Besnithally Hithstrated.

Volums I, now publishing price is, post-free, is. 4d., contains the following popular plays:—
The Gameter Jane Store. The Man of the World. Love in a Villaga. Picarro. She Stoops to Conquer. Douglas The Devil to Pav. The adopted Child. The Castle Spectra. The Export of Garratt. The Boad to Buin. The Inconstant. The Bevenge. The Jealous Wile. The Bivals. Midsa. The Stranger. Venice Preserved Guy Manusring. Frait Curiouty. With which is presented. Gravia, Portraits of the colebrated Tragediana, Mr. S. Phelps and Mr. O. Kean. Volume II is also ready, price is, containing the following popular plays:— A New Way to Pay Old Debts. The Gredian Daughter The Miller and His Mon. The Honeymon. The School for Scandal. The Iron Chest. George Farnwell. Bob Boy Magnegor. Onto. The Pilot. The fair Pedithut. The Provoked Husband. A Tais of Mystery. The Westler. The Gastle of Scrente. Isabella: or, the Fatel Marriage. The Lord of the Manor. Arden of Faversham. The Slege of Beigräde.

of the Manor. Arden of Faversham. The Siege of Beigrade Volume III is also ready, price is, containing the following popular plays:—
Edward the Black Frince. The Oritic; or, a Tragedy Beheaved. Bertram: The Founding. The Castle of Andslusia. Theored axis Sightmands. John Bull. Oymon. Werner. Paul and Virginia. Brutus; er, The fail of Tarqui. Gipyanni in Lendon. Dampen and Phythias. The Beggara Opera. The Three Riskie. Reals. The Mourning Eride. The Thispes of Faria. Bragapes. The Lily of the Desert. A Trip to Bearborough.

Volume IV is now ready, price is, containing the following plays:—
Leavy Jame Grey. The Gold Mines or, the Milles of Grenoble. Fasic; of, the Sallan Wife. The Orokan of the Trough Spt. The Supportib. Prikener of State. The Dreams. The Roman Fallar. The Frevoked Wite The Waterman. The Mat of Honour. The Curlew. Every Man in his fin non. The Gaskef. John Fallan. The Turping Gath. Evenac The Marchan Sped the Plught. No Song no Sepper. The Courter of Lyoka. Betarosaa.

"A Tre Entring Drama is also published in Weskiy

Penny Bumbers
London: J. Droke 318, Strand.

COMPLETE YOLDWEB

THE MYSTERIES OF THE COURT OF LORDON BY G. W. M. Reynolds Third Series. Two Volumes. 18s. Post-free, Isled. 104 Wood-Engravings.

188. FOSS-Tre-18efd. 104 WOOd-Engrayings.
2. THE NYFTERIES OF THE COUNT OF LONDON BY G. W. M. SOYLOME. Fuerth Series. Two-Veimmes. 152 Fest-tree, 184 d. 104 WOOd-Engrayings.
3. REYNOLDS'S MISCELLANY. Volumes 35 to 28, Inclusive Complete, 45 and 1 Post-tree, 8d asan britany. Complete, 45 and 1 Post-tree, 8d asan volume extr. 4,000 Wood-Engrayings.

volume extra. 4,000 Wood-Engravings.

4. EOSA LAMBERT. By G. W. M. Reynolds. One Volume, 6s 6d. Post-tree, 7s 3d. 8s Wood-Engrav-

VOISION OF THE FRENCH BANDIT IN ENGLAND. By G. W. M. Reynolds. Price to Post-free, 29 4d. 20 Wood-Engravings.

LEATING SPECIAN INSECT DE-LA COUNTY POWDER BLACK RESILES FOR SELVE DESTRUCTION OF THE PROPERTY HAVE PROVIDED TO ACCUPANT THE BLACK PLAN FLOW DESTRUCTION OF THE PROVIDED TO ACCUPANT THE BLACK PLAN FLOW DESTRUCTION OF THE PROVIDED TO ACCUPANT SHAPP OF THE PROVIDED THE PROVIDED TO ACCUPANT TO ACCUPANT (Tro by past 7 12 or 31 stamps), by TROMAS REATING, 75, 65, Faul's Churchyard Loadon, E.C.

GEATIS! GEATIS!! GEATIS!!! GEATIS! GEATIS!! GEATIS!!!

MOW Publishing and to be continued weekly, in EALFPENNY NUMBERS.

The Starting Tale of

E D I T H T H E O A P T I V E;

EOEBERS OF EPFING POEST.

Bautifully Illustrated.

HOTOM—No 2 is Given A way with No. 1

TWO NUMBERS IN WEAPPER POS CHE HALFPENNY.

London: $12, Strand, and all booksollers.

GIVEN AWAY. No. 2 gratis with No. 1.
TWO MU SBERS FOR ONE RALEPZEMY.
G. W. M. REYNOLDS'S POPULAR Tale, MARY PRICE:

THE TRIALS AND VIOLSSITUDES

The celebrated American author, M. P. Willia, when reviewing this take in his own wifely circulated and highly respectable periodical, the New York Hong Journed, soid, "Reymolds has never written a more effective story than "Ann Pauca;" and it is see that by frawing; a noble character in dominate servicing, it worthy the careful permail of all chaffer. The work delepant in their six is proceeds, and the principal character in dominate servicing, it worthy the careful permail of all chaffer. The work delepant in their six is in proceeds, and the principal character in scintizable sunstained."

"" Nos. I and 2 One Helipenny the Two Numbers, now publishing.

To be continued in Weskiy Halfrance Numbers.

To be continued in Weekly Halfpenny Numbers. London: 313, Strand; and all booksellers.

GRATISI GRATISII, GRATISIII Now publishing, price One Halfpenny the two Numbers, Nos. 1 and 2 of the Popular Ta's of THE SOLDIER'S WIFE

By G W. M. Barndana Beautifully Ithustrated. To be continued in Weekly Hallpanny Numbers.
Nortes — No 2 Presented Galls with No. 1, in aloured wrapper.

* Two Numbers for O a Halfrenny.

"Wotbing on exceed the exquisite pathos which is to be found in this tale. The devotion of the aghider's wife to be or unfortunate husband is depoted in a strain which frequently entire the glowing submitude of the heart and at other times hings, teach into the eyes. Poor Luny a hatory is bardeed he saddest eyes writtens, and yet where was a nobler character of Woman ever drawn?"—Weekly Dispatch.

London: 313, Strand.

BOBERT MACAIRE,

ROAD-SIDE INN.

By G. W. M. Barkolse.

With likestrations by H. Asyslar.

A Ta's of the likestrations by H. Asyslar.

A Ta's of the likestrations by H. Asyslar.

A Ta's are rational assemble are withing figure, and samed fall to tryof the attention of the reader.—Wide the whole public press.

Two Shillings; positives, four stamps extra. Order through any hockseller, or

J. Dioka, $18, Strand, Landon.

Now ready, a new and revised edition, price is., or by post, in id., elegantly bound in red cloth, containing a hundred pages of closely printed matter.

THE TOILETTE;

THE TOILETTE;
Oz, A Guide to the large variety of Present Approach and the Presentation of Present Approach to the high, the weighters, the system with moustache, the heart-independing uses like of the hale-depistories, to remove superfiscions hair-loosening of the hair, practical method for preventing is falling of, reaching against baldends—coarse and dry heir-diseases of the hair and their cures—the testin—the tottakens—its remy superfiscion—the feeth—the tottakens—its remy variety—ending the heart, the means of its proverion—densifying—the feeth—orins, hard an a soft-ballons—cures and remedies—the regressing nits—chilblade—the hunges their heart, the disease and assemble to the hunges their particular and the special provides and core—the eyes, cyclings, and cyclashes—diseases of the system of sight, eye-lottons, pleza, system, tungens in the eye—the mouth, the lips, the toughs, the guide—the breath, &c.

Office: $10, Strand. Office : 819, Strand.

Now ready, price is, or free by pest, is, 24, bound in

THE FRENCH SELF INSTRUCTOR.

By Grozen W. M. Bernouds.

This useful and instructive work contains lessons on a variety of subjects, amongst which are the following:

English and Latin Abbrevisions in general use,
French and Italian Frenunciation, Value of Forsign Coins. Ac. As HOGARTE'S PICTURES. Now ready, in one Handsome Quarto Volume, Bound in cloth, price is, post-free, is. Cased to blad Volume I, price is 5d.; post-free, id. extra Volume I, price is 3d.; post-free, dd. extra.

THE WORKS OF WILLIAM HOGARTH.

With descriptive ister-press from the pens of endment writers, and notes from the critiques of the best communitators (Walpola Trussler, &c.).

London: John Digs. No. 313, Strand; and sold by all booksellers in town and cambry.

Now Ready, Volume II of THE HALFPENNY GAZETTE, Boand in Cloth. price 4s., per post, 8d. extra. Index and Title Page to Volume II, One Hartfestay, Cases to blud Volume II, price in 8d.; post-free, 8d

.*. Vol. I. is still on sale, price 4s.; per post, 3d. extra. Lendon: J. Droze, 313, Strand.

GIVEN AWAY!
TWO NUMBERS FOR ONE HALFPENNY.
G. W. M. Extendes great secational Movel,
THE MYSTERIES OF LONDON.
With Illestrations by John Gilbert and Exert April.
** No. 1 and 2, One Halfsdony the Two Numbers,
New Rescy.
To be continued in Weekly Halfornov Numbers, London: 512, Strang; and all booksellers.

The Ohrapest Book ever Published.

SHAKSPEE, TWO BRILLINGS.

The complete works of Shakspers, electantly hound, containing thirty-seven districtions and anxiest of the author how publishing. Per post 6d, stress.

"A Germanean and schools lineally itself with for large quantities." London: J. Dione, 818, Strand.

THE THOMAS, of the Look Empire Contents Carlings of who Look Hopping.

I Empire Content Carlings of whomeless has 7-in temporal of more of titless of his sector. "We discontent within the 7-in temporal of who four in marry. who lained to merey, and school-married lives are cyreched of applicage, to the proper hospitality titless with the foreward to did life pleiswee, and with hundred of the first and the property of the first and the first a

O LADIES ONLY—De THOMAS,

King's College Horpital, College of Pavilelass 's concident dairy presentile and by let or. "The Ealine Frivate Condential, Adviser." Min neces, with cases reduced the ideal's, proposition of the College of the College of the College of the College and the College of the College of the College of the College and the College of the College of the College of the College

and the College of the College of the College of the College

and the College of the College of the College

and the College of the College of the College

and the College of the College of the College

and the College of the College of the College of the College and the College of the Col

O THE NEBVOUS AND AFFLICTED. DE THOMAS of the took Horpital, Office of Brussels.

Die THOMAS of the took Horpital, Office of Brussels.

College of Physicians, prescriptive calls the attention of nervous unkneys sufferers to be unkneys with the sufferers to the unkneys of the sufferers to the unkneys of the sufferers to be unkneys to the unkneys of the sufferers to be unkneys to the unkneys of all powers to the unkneys to the unkneys the un

New Work by the Author of "Mankoon." Just out, 18mo. Pocket Edition. nost free, 12 sta scaled code, 20

Ba. CUNTIS'S MEDICAL GUIDE TO MARKIAGE. A Practical Treatise on its Physical and Prescoal Obligations. with Instructions to the Markiag and University of the Prescoal Obligations with Instructions to the Markiag and Inspectional Obligations with Instructions to worked life. By Dr. J. UCPUTA, 18. Albannaries-street, Florastilly, Lowdon, W. This work countains plain directions by which forfeited privileges can be restored, and essential functions strengthened and preserved.

leges an he restored, and essential functions strengthened and preserved.

66id by Lilan, th, Warwick-tana, and Mann, 39. Cornbill, Louis foun or direct from the Author who that also fea, visualished a new and revised edition of his popular work. "Manhood," a Mu-dical Eness on the Treatment of Revenue Dublity, Empotency, &a., which is forcered, at the same price on above.

A GENTLEMAN, correct of the results of a present of the results of a present of each of the results of the damps to see the results of the damps of the facts seemed to the results of the damps of the results o

BRODIE'S SPEEDY OUBS BRODIES GOLD-COATED PIELS, tagte less. Aspired for both a spread as many particularly and the spread of the both a spread as the same and the same and the spread of the same and the same and the same will be until distinct the southwesternisch the inner of their in-valuables, and statistize efficient, and precedure are not burelened with those winders of their invaluables, and the statistize of the same and the

OZEAU'S OOPAHINE MEGE, SHOOMEN THE IN THE STATE AND LONG THE STATE AND LONG WENTHING UNDER ONE OF THE STATE AND LONG WENTHING WHEN LOSD, SERGE & PRINC IS AN ADVENUE OF THE STATE OF THE ST

BILIOUS and Liver Complaints, Indigestic District of many interesting the state of th E PER LENA DE SE SE VAN DE

NO MORE BUGS _MOBTO INSECTO Dedre, Fee caterollara, and all insects—sold in bosses, attes stormelle force of the fee caterollara, and all insects—sold in bosses at left of phonons, 6d, 18; the year thorse is 6d, 28, 8d, and de fad, were 104, 14; by Gabsing Jornay, Franca Cagnici, 49, Haynette.

DR KAHN'S PTILOSOPHY OF MAR.
RIAGE—A Tractice on the Obstance of a Bappy Underson and its means by which there may be effectively resonance and shoral and prystical happi cas sommed. A million cooles of title sprolar work have been sold Frina in patterns for turalve danged; sigher from ALLEY, spollably r. Ave Meda-laps: Petrariolly rooty or the Transmire. Dr. Klanja Massoni, top of Hay-

DURITY AND HEALTH may be regrained by not a taffer from any Uneass. Debility, or Insa-facily a proper property of the control of the control

TERVOUS DEBILITY -Dr. JOSEPH Survivos debility. Disables, terror debility. Disables, trembling of hands, depressing of epitis. Imparied manors, loss of viscour and size diseases of the paren requiring considering Medical Aries. The Topical Maria Section to Escalar. To profe for two riamps—606, Ozierta

TO LADIES ONLY.—Mid witery, Prognancy, Obstructions, & Medical advise gives on all permits can a Lecture sourced strictly condidential by Dr. Richardson, Medical Hall, 101, Druy-lans, London. Funnie powders for is magnif

TO LADIES ONLY.—Consult Dr. SCOTT personally or by letter, in Milwrifery, Programay, Gostro-ticos, Disappointensia in Marriage, and all seess pensile. Thus had thirty-was years London practice. The Ladies Health and Consultation of the Consultati

DR SMITH has just published, a FRRE VARSTRIG TO FOUND SMRT (fitt paper), in the call-care of marrow deathly, pains in the best, buffered in lasticode as feed seams from observation, on specific tray turns. Address, To Survey, 1888, 18

DR CULVERWELL ON MARRIAGE,

Is. by post is stamps, is scaled.

ITS OBLIGATION 3. HAPPINESS, AN DISAPPOINTMENT.
BUBLIST BUBLIST STATES
BUBLI

BROUS' INJECTION. — Hygienic, Never-taling, preservative, the only one that cares without the remedy. Thirty year's success. At Paris from the inventor, 112, Scalevard Magenia, and the principal chemists in England.

LIVEN AWAY. — 'The Experience of Ro-bissasse, Youthful Fror. with a prescription to sore them in all their stages." A copy of this valicable Pumphing is not to any ad-dress for two stamps, to defray asputass. Address, "Betnife Grount, Spirere Blattandality.

contraggers '6' k.

MY I MADE UMEL.—UPUPURAL IS A DAMY Mower of Menico, of rare Fragrance. Price 2s. 64. Laboratory of Flowers, 3, New Bond-street, London. E W I N G M A O H I N E S.

GROVER and BAKER'S

Osobrated Elastic or Double Loca-Stitch

SEWING MACHERER.

bell the Latest temperature gam the Next and Simplest over

With all the Laisste Improvements, are the Best and Simplest over some the Laisste Improvements, are the Best and Simplest over some Write, with less trouble, than are the Best and Simplest over comes. Write, with less trouble, than are the comes. Write, with less trouble, than are the comes. Write, with less trouble, than are the same than the comes when the same than the same than the same than the same than the place of the same transfer machines are taking his place of a seedlewords and the place of the self-several same than the place of the same than the same than the place of the same than the WING MACHINES The Rest, Largest, and Chespest Manufecturer in Lofter Sew and Second-hand Lockstich Machines, Camma, Friesdles, Shuttles, and ell hields of Sittings in large or small cities. The trade supplied with Machinery. Shipping and cordens second vande are cally attended to on representation of the Leavest (from Thomas et al. Leavest (from Thom

SEWING MACHINES.

AN IMMENSE ADVANTAGE TO PURCHASERS. AT THE LONDON SEWING MACHINE COMPARTS, 13, FINSBURY-PLACE, NORTH, very Machine of seknowledged excellence may be seen

Thei usity celebrated WHIELER and WILSON. description of work done by experienced h

THOMAS'S PATENT SEWING MACHINES

for PRIVATE PAMILY use. DRESSMAKING &c. &c. be bay will HEM. FELL, GATHER, BIND, ERAID, TUCK. &c. bakegues, and Samples of Work, may be had on application to 84, 87. MARTIN'S-LE-GRAD, and REGENT-JIECUS, OXFORD-STREET.

SEWING MACHINES.—THOMAS'S LOCK-STITCH, upon all the latest 'mprovements, to be had upon Sermo.

Repairs done in all kinds of Machines.

WILLIAMS and CO., 13, Olf Charles-street, City-road.

DEAD THIS.—Thirty-seven and Sixpence.

The HOUSEHOLD FEWING MACHINE embriders, gittebas &1, as exquiritely and expeditionaly as the most expenience makes and a results are the most expenience of the seven and the seven and the seven are seven as the seven and the seven are seven as the seve

SCHOOL CLOTHING.

SCHOOL CLOTHING.

CORSS and COMPANY, TAILORS,

28, Shore-fitch, London.

Established twenty-one years at the above address.

ISTIMATES and Contracts for the Supply of a Boyr Clothing will be sent to any address on application. The keep shways on hand, ready made, Fiverage Difference of the Supply of a Boyr Clothing will be sent to any address on application. Set if Boyr's Complexes Clothing Supremental and Complexes of the Supplemental and Comp nd 8t is gnaranteed.

RECOMMENDED BY
a Secretary of the Merchant feamen's Orphan Asylustivest lay of the Milton-street School s, Cripplessites, of Secretary of the Silving Secretary of the Shoredist School s, Cripplessites, Secretary of the Shoredist School Skapland-road.

DESS and CO., 63, SHOREDITCH, LONDON. SCHOOL CLOTHING.

LYNES'S KENSINGTON CLOTHING AF N RIS OF A ELEVATION OF A CONTROL OF A CO

NIOHOLSON'S NEW SPRING SILKS.
500 Patterns—representing £20 000 worth of new Silks—post-free, on application.
50 to £8, 52 Faul = scharschyark.

DO YOU WISH YOUR CHILDREN WELL DESSED |--Boys' Kaleasrbocker Suits, to Cloth, from | Useful School Suits from his 5d. Patterns of the slotter rea for measurement, and 46 capterings of new drosses | MICHOLLON'S. 50 to 52. St. Pani's-charchyserd.

TO GENTLEMEN WHO ARE IN SEARCH OF A GOOD TAILOR—Warranted to Fit Perfectly and at the Lewrest possible Prices, for each—a good selection of floring and Summer Cloths of the latest make and fashion.—WELLA 7, Handrey-street, Long-acre. W.C.

TONES and OO'S SIX-AND-SIXPENNY
HATS are the Seat in London.
The Prince of Wales' Shape
Our Noted Half-Guines Hate in all shapes.
73, LONG-ACRE.

DOWN'S TEN SHILLING HATS. BUY AT THE WAREHOUSE.

HATS! HATS! HATS! - The Best and Cheapest in London are to be had at DAVIES'S Hoted The Ches pest in Ludon are to be had at DATES Note Warshouse, 566 Furand, west side of St. Clement's Church.
Excellent Paris Silk Hatt for ordinary west... Se 6d and 6e 6d.
Superior disto for best wear

HAT VENTILATION.—The Patent DUPLEX SHAFT VENTILATOR can be attached to any hat in one minute. It affords passage for the ingress of the six at the same time, thereby ensuring perfect vanishing, may be had of any Hatter, or of the Fatantes, JOHN CANTER 14, London-treet, Forchard-street, E.C.

JOSHUA BOGERS'B

INIVERSAL PRIZE SHILLING BOX
OF WATER COLOURS, Patronised and used by the Royal Pamily, consists of a Mangany Roy constaining ten Supering Colours, and three cause affection—pointed Carnel Hair Branks, with practical directions or use. None are genuine unless marked Josina Royales, 18, Pawersen, Flandbury-square, from 188, Enskellrow," where they can be had, and of all booksellers, stationers, of Sperings, and Sancy repositories, she.
JOSHUA BOGERS'B
Prize Einagennay Box of Water Colours contains the ten Colours.

Binspenny Box of Drawing Fancile contains six Superior 1, India-relates, and four Drawing Fins. Sold as above.

JOHUA BOSERS

Il Fenzy Superfine Water Colours are not surpassed in by the colours of other makers and ped at one chilling. The genaine are stamped "Joseph Royal Colours are not surpassed in the colour state of the colours o

OOKLE'S ANTIBILIOUS PILLS,
J for indigestion, billows, liver, and stomach complaints, become, at its light, in St., de. 6d., and its.

Wonder of the Agriconto. Busting Cases, Scs. Sold ditts. 25 12. 62 (all warranted). All kinds of the Agriconto. All kinds of the Agriconto. T

Coldentin and was manufacture.

TOTHING IMPOSSIBLE.—The Greatest and most Unctual inventions of the day, ASUA AMARKILLA,
and most Unctual inventions of the day, ASUA AMARKILLA, bards JOHN GOODMAL and OO, Three Eng-court. Lumberbards JOHN GOODMAL and OO, Three Eng-court. Lumberbards JOHN GOODMAL and OO, Three Eng-court. Lumberbards JOHN GOODMAL and CO. Three Eng-court.
Assardial has none of the proportion of freque it, not the centrary, to be sanded to the system, and when the hard in cone resistant, one pulleation per mosts will keep it in general subsequence graines per bottle; helf bottles, the E. Escretal subsequence Co. have been appointed Pertument to E.E.E. the Princess of TOHN GOSNELL and OO'S OHERRY TOTO TOTH PASTE is greatly superior to any other Tooth Powder, gives the tooth a postf-like whiteness, and protests the enamed from decay. Fries is. 64. cach.—12, Three King-courk, Lombard-treet, London.

FIGURE Best and Sweetest Perfume of the day is
"THE SPIRIT OF LOVE."
Price is per bottle.
Prepared only by J. M. ROBSON, 23, Lawrence-lane, Cheapelds.

DIANOFORTES EXTRAORDINARY .-MODER and MOORE LET ON THE HE FORWARD.

MODER and MOORE LET ON HITE the following PLANOFORESS for Three Years, after which, and without any further payment whatever, the Pianofore becomes the property of the Hirer—26 Guines Pianette, 35 eviness per quarter; 16 Guines Pianette, 35 Guines Pianette, 36 Guines Pianette, 37 Guine

CRAMER AND COMPANY (Limited) LET on HIRE the following PIANOFORTES for Three Years, which, and WITHOUT ANY PURITURE PAYMENT WHATEVER, strument becomes the property of the Hirer:—

28 Guinea Pianuette, in Rose 22 19a, 6d. per quarter.

907 and 209, Regent-attes, w. Office of "The Orchestra" (music and the drawa), every Satur-day, 3d. Office of "The Musical Monthly Magasine," edited by Vincent Wallace, 1s.

ORGAN ACCORDEONS, 8 Octaves, with since, 23 14a.06. ENGLIBH CONCERTINAS, 48 keys, deuble-action, from 35a. Masteal Instruments taught and repaired. rom 3%. Musical Instruments taught and repaire P. WATTE, 37, Great Marlborough-street, W.

AMUSEMENTS FOR THE MILLIOR.

AMUSEMENTS FOR THE MILLIOR.

HE N E W L I G H T.

Magnesium wire where held to the faces of a candia, leave, or gas, will bern with the greatest brilliance, they wonderful lights far excels the Electric, Ory-hydrogen, purposes, and it is supposed that it will a second or General Himmanicos, Elements of the Magnesium wire can be procured at Mr. Faulkark's, Operative Chemist, 40, Endel-atreet, Long-sers, and on the sent by post. One or two feet, or lead, forms a very brillian sans amusing organization. Prices 3d. per foot for the wire; and 3d. for the Sationed wire, or ribbon.

LECTRICAL EXPERIMENTS...

Electrical Machines. 10s. to 60s. each.

Bells &s. 5d.—Spiral wards, 5s to 10s.—Heads of hair, 5s 6d and Bells &s. 66—Spirit warms, see the first size of the first size of PAULENER, OPERATIVE CHEMISE, 40, Endell-street.

PPARATUS OF ALL KINDS BOUGHT,

Exchanged, or Sold on Commission, and Repeired, at Bastarize of avery description, either for slectro-plating, electric light, firing sunpowder, and other experiments.
Relicons, for inflation with sommon gas or hydrogen, which will assemd to any height, price is 6. to 10s. each.
Daniel's Satzeries, 5s 6d and 5s.
Smooth, 5s 6d and 6s.
Smooth, 5s 6d and 6s.
Set of Five Platinum Batteries, 43.
Set of Ten ditto, £5.
All letters requiring an answer must contain a stamp and directed carvelope.

PAULKNEE, CHEMIST, 40, ENDELL-STREET, BLOOMSBURY.

A DEBELL-STREET, BLOOMSBURT.

A DEBELL-STREET, BLOOMSBURT.

A DEBELL-STREET, BLOOMSBURT.

A DEBELL-STREET, BLOOMSBURT.

(double-bervalled) with 8 experiments, price £5 to, fitty price

roive. Magio balls and elec ro magnats, for spiris-rapping, &s. A large variety of philosophical instruments always on sale. All letters requiring an enswer must enclose a stamped dire nvolope. Fost-office orders payable to William Faulkher, 40, Endell treet, Long-acre, at the Bloomsbury Office.

GALVANISM for the CURE of DISEASES

Amagazonatic Colle for this purpose and for Amssement. The new year age of the state of varies with strength; some shocks for ansassment, similar to the caparoon. Gaivanic Colla, for giving shocks for ansassment, and capable of being made vey weak or strong as pleasant, and capable of being made vey weak or strong as pleasant, with Smee's batteries and handles consistent of the strong as the strength of the collection of

THE WRITING LESSON.

HE WRITING LESSON. The Companion Picture to " Mix diag Baby," and " Dreesing for the Pariy."

THE WRITING LESSON A Beautiful Pio

THE WRITING LESSON, Issued with No. 27 of the YOUNG ENGLINEWOMAN on Monday 26th inst. Price of the Number and Picture, 2d.

THE WRITING LESSON, "Dressing for the Party," "Minding Saby," these these Pictures With One Number, 4d, London: S. O. BEEFOR, 346, Strand, W.C.

COMMENCEMENT OF A NEW VOLUME.

THE YOUNG ENGLISHWOMAN.

Part VII, for JULY, now Ready, Price 7d.

Contamin ...

reprett Girls. Chap'ers I to IV. The Marry-set Girls. Chap'ers I to IV.
The Two History of a Lit is Bagannan. Chapters XX. to XXVII.
Fugenis Grandet. Chapters XI to XVI.
Miss Addy's March. Is Your Chapters.
Old Town Treditions of Edinburgh. By All rander Leigh IV Penched Tom.

New Section of the Computer Section of Sectio

"The Pirates."

Readlework Davig as, Fashion Sketches, &c.

In addition to several Readlework Decigns and Fashi Rhetches, too numerous to naritoularies, full-lained Pat'er for cutting out a Little Girls Paletes are included in the Part, as well as a Fashion First, decigned in Part ex excess for "THE YOUNG ENGLISHWOMAR," and carefully panel by hand; and a beautiful picture, printed in colours, by & Dickes, called

THE WRITING LESSON, after a painting by S. B. Halle, Esq., in the possession the publisher. the publisher.

** The price of this Part, including the colours Picture, the said Supplement the Supplement for the Work Table, the sahirn Piate, and Title-pare and Infex to contents for Vol. I is London : S. O. BEETOE, 248, Strand, W.C. READY REMEDIES FOR COMMON COM LU PLAINTA.—Send six postage stamps and receive "Bead Remedies for Common Complaints," a complete Family Medica Vade-Mecum and Manual of Domastic Medicine and Househol knrssry.

BEADLE and Co. 44 Paisvassier-rew, and all Book Railway Stations

THE HIGHWAYMAN OF THE SEAS!

THE HIGHWAYMAN OF THE DAMAS (Given away, No. 1 with No. 3, with two original Ulustrations, Price One Penny. New ready, everywhere, MONEY MARKS; Or, the HIGHWAYMAN of the SEAS.—The most enciting romance ever issued for curpaceing snything ever written about Dick Turpla, Jack Sheppart, or any other land shand the chiral results about the Money of the advantages, the bold, the daubles, the chiral results, should buy MONEY MARK, the HIGHWAYMAN of the SEAS.

Numbers 1 and 2, ready everywhere. London: Gzorge Vickers, Angel-court, Strand

NOTICE TO INVENTORS O TI O D OFFICE FOR FATERING-OROGE

O, TRAPALOAR-SQUARE, GLARING-OROGE

Fricial instructions (reatis) as to the COST OF PATERINE :
firest Britain or foreign et curries. Advice and authorises to dis costs; of or working inventions. Apply personally or by interdiscers. FRINCE, HAMMOND and PRINCE. Fatest Office.
Frailages-quares, Charing-arose, 47.0.

ONDON GENERAL ADVERTISING COM-PANT.—Office, 7. Albico-terrace, and stations forwards group Director—Mr. J. Woon. Lists of Stations forwards plication. Contracts per Week, Month, Charter, 87 Teks.

FUNERAL ECONOMY THE NEOROPOLIS COMPANY undertak the whole duser relating to INTERMENTS at fixed an moderate scales of charge. Offices—a, Lancester-place, Strand westminator-road; 5, Resulington-green; 80, Newcastle-size Strand; and 60, Sloane stress, 8.W.

BRITISH COLLEGE OF HEALTH,

Euston-road, London.

The MORISONIAE SYSTEM of MEDICINE.

1. The vital principle is in the blood.

2. Everything in the body is derived from the bloot.

3. All constitutions are radically the same.

6. All diseases arise from inspurity of the blood.

5. Pain and disease have the same origin.

6. From the intimate connection subsiding between mind and body, the health of the one must conduce to the security of the other. pony, we nested or not one sales that only medicinal mode for ? Proper vegotable purgation is the only medicinal mode for effectually eradioating disease.

8. The discovery or was unade by James Merison, the Hygeist, by This proclaimed "the medical liberty of the stolyet."

Morison's Medicines are sold by appointed agents.

HEALTH in the FAMILY, — Very Choice Nourithing, and Pure Dist. — FISON'S PEARL SEMOULI le very delicate for invalidat; invaluable for children. Infants with arrive amazingly upon it, and effect when everything circ falls Sold by Grocers, &a.—Agents, HICKS BEOFRERS, E.C. Works, Ipawich.

I SCORBUILD DROPS.—A BRAUTIFUL COMPLEXION may be obtained by using this celebrated patent herela preparation of the property of the color of the col HE BLOOD PURIFIER HALSE'S

TTO BE LET, as Offices or Light Warehouse,
Two Rooms, at 40 Esdell-street, Bloomsbury. First floor.
Rest 10s. per work. Size of rooms, 22 lost by 17 and 18 feet by 8, Good thoroughfare.

UXUBLANT WHISKEBS OF MOUSsmoothest face, without injury; and a sure remedy for haldness; Is elsamps. Bit. FOX., ob-mist. Macodesteld — You have made my moustacles is truly a stonning "— After its weeks use my my whiskers is truly a stonning"— After its weeks use my my whiskers is truly a stonning "— After its weeks use my my whiskers has disappeared and my hair grown again."—Extrasts

PENNY LINEN OOLLARS.

BPEIGHT'S patent thresfold-folded, edge-gusetted decance or stand-up COLLAR; Speight's patent thresfold-folded edge wees- Ead or turn-down collar; as id Speight's patent folded edge to go Dux collar. These collars are washed, starched, and troundand from their high flatch will keep clean as long again as any Collar in use—Caution; See that the name is stamped upon aver collar. Briscar's Pauest Pelded Edge.

MILLION ENVELOPES sold annually at PARENT and SOUTON, is, Oxford extract, W. Dorfel exveloped. St 60 per 1,000 Think Side. See 64 per 1,000

15,000 BIBLES, PRAYER BOOKS, and Chartel Services. PARTER and COTTO.
No and No. OXFORD-STREET W

360,000 of THE 2s. PRIEN WRITING CASE have been sold. By post 20 stamps: PARKINS and GOTTO, 24 and 25, OXFORD-STREET, W.

120 SHEETS of NOTE PAPER for 6d.

120 SHEETS of NOTE PAPER for 6d.

PARETES and SOUTO,
24 and 25, OXFORD-STREET, LORDON W.

ILY OF THE VALLEY BROOCH, 80 6d, M of Carved Ivary, exact shape and colour of the real flower. Next size, &c. 6d. Other flowers, 7s. 6d., 10s. 61, 19s. 6d., and 15s. 6d. Sate per pest.— WM SCOTT. Jeweller, 15 King William-streed, & C.

DENNETT'S WATCHES, 65 and 64, Cheepside, in gold and silver, in great variety, of every construction and ories, from three to start guineas. Every watch stillully examined, 'and its correst formance guaranteed. Tree and and per port. The best watch watch ever made.

Becomy orders to JOHN BERNETT, Watch Manufactory, 46 and 64, Cheepside.

PUNCH on HORSEBACK.—Boars of Laughter. DUNCH on HORSEBAUR.—Boars of Funch on his famous horse Hestor, with the laughable anties of his friend the Clewra, may be seen daily at 354, Strand. The pair sent post free for it stamps.—H. G. CLARKE as 6 Co., 288, Strand.

THE MAGIO DONKEYS .- Roars of Laugh A ter.—These wonderful animals go through their evinced dinary evolutions daily, at $58, Strend. from 10 till 6. The pair sent post free 14 stamps.— H. G. CLARES and CO., 365, Strand.

STEAM ENGINE MODELS, guarantes 1: working order caviave free to any cal-way station in hispitand, 4c. 6d.—A COMPERDIUM of PROTO-GRAPHY, giving Pall restruction post-free 7 stamps.—FRED. J. COX. Opticlas, 27, Skinner-street, London.

THE INGENIOUS POCKET TIMEPIECE, with Case Complete, warranted to denote Solar Time ex-rectly. Price One Shilling; by post, the near stamps. Wash and Co., Kinver, near Stouroridge.

and Co., Kinver, near Stourbridge.

GALVANISM v. NERVOUS EXHAUSTION, PAINS, PARALISIS & a.

ON LOAN, a TEST Of BEAL VOLTAIO BELIS. Galvano-Piline, Chain Banda, Fooket Beiterlea, &c., seet without charse, for a month, to enable any one to accordant the extraordinary off sets of mild voltais continuous correcte. Receat improvements have made them verdurable, Scrible, convenient for self-application, and steem telestric scrib.
Medical reports and manufon, and enterositaid of eners in cases of Rheumatian. Fronchitist, Good, Epilepsy, FroncNervout Declarity, Servouthills, Good, Epilepsy, Fronchites Combined Bands for restoring exhausted Vital Energy, 20c. 19 do.

Z. L. PULYERMACHER, Galvanic Establishment, 78. Oxford-circust, London.

BRAGG'S CHARCOAL BISCUITS afford burn, flatalency, impure breath, and children savering from

PRAGG'S OHABCOAL BISOUITS, an Excelent Freenum for San Sickness, are made of the purest vegetable carbon, by J. L. Bragg, 2, Wigmore-street, Cavendiah-

PRAGG'S CHARCOAL BISCUITS, recom-mended by the most emisent of the Faculty —See Dr. Has-sell's Report.—Sold by all Chemists. BAGG'S CHARCO AL BISCUITS, sold only in Tim, is, 3s, 4s, and 8s. each, by J. L. Eraco, sele maker, 2, Wigmore street, Cavendish-equare.

in Tinz, is, 3s, dt, and 8s sach, r, 3, Wigmore street, Cavendish-equa BAGG'S PUBE VEGETABLE OHAR-

To Hothers, Nurses, and Invalide.

PATENT FOOD for INFANTS and INVALIDE OF RIDGESS.—A thereughly-cooked food. Hose satisfying, streaghening, sorthing for infants. Most agreeable, digestible near-ining for invalide. In me. Most agreeable, two minutes. The best and chespost food. Of chemists, in time, dd., ad., i.e., or 2s. 6d. Samples sent free to medical mess.—Manufactory, Horsely down, S.E.

AITUE_The LETTUCE contains an active

HOW TO MAKE SUMMER BEVERAGES, DELIGIOUS and CHEAF, of all kinds, including the French Ioss, Ginger-beer, Lemonade, Soda-water, Effer g Fruit Drinks, Temperance Syrups, Cider (mo) fear method; ts of B-ttah Wines, Mineral Waters, and all other debiolog

Summer Brinks.

The above plans are warranted by a practical London Maker,
The above plans are warranted by a practical London Maker,
and will clear Hins Shillings profit on every Eighteenpeace outlay in all towns and rilinges in the hingdom. Bent free by post to any ardress for 12 peany tamps.
Direct, Fisher and Sos, Fublishers, Blomfield-street, Kingsland, London, M.E. Panetually sent per return post.

KINAHAN'S LL WHISKEY S. COGNAU

REANDY.—This substrated OLD IRISH WHISKE rivals the finest Frunch Brandy. It is pure, mild, mallew, delicious, and very wholesome. Sold in bottles, is a St., at most of the respectable retail houses in Lendon by the appointed Agencie in the prinsipal bowns of Raginad; or wholesade at §, Great Windmills street, London, W. Observe the red seal, pinkt label, and eork, branded "Kinahan's LL Whisky.

GTARCH MANUFACTURERS TO H. R. H. THE PRINCESS OF WALES.

LEN FIELD PATENT STARUH, USED IN THE ROYAL LAUNDRY,
AND AWARDED THE PRIZE MEDAL, 1965.

RECKITT'S DIAMOND BLACK LEAD be used to the Palsons of the Queen and Prince of Wales, which is a further confirmation of its great superfective. Reckits Sons. deffolk-lane, London, E.C., and Hell.

OLMAN'S PRIZE MEDAL MUSTABD boars their Trude Mark, THE BULL'S HEAD, on each sockage.
It is i.e only Mustard which obtained a Prize Medal at the freat Exhibition in 1662.
For Domestic purposes nothing finer can be produced. Their Genuina "and" Double Superfine" are the qualities particularly Genuina" and "Double Superfine" are the qualities particularly tailed in every Town throughout the United Eingdom. J. & J. OOLMAN, 96, CANNON STREET, LONDOM.

ICHEN ISLANDIOUS, or IOELAND MOSS
COCOA, manufactured by DUNN and BEWITT, London.
Erougly reconsumeded by the faculty in all cases of deblity, digestion, consumption, and all paintonary and cheet diseases, es testimoniate of Dr. Hassall, Dr. Normandy, and others. To a had everywhere, at is. 4d. per lb.

PHILLIPS AND OO.'S TEAS ARE THE DEST ARE CHEAPERT.

1. KING WILLIAM-STREET, CITY, LORDON.
A General Price Ourcost, post-free. Tess certiage free.

London: Printed and published by Jone Dicks, at the Office, No. 513, Strand.—Saturday, July 1, 1886.

No. 108.-Vol. III. New SER

SCENES IN THE SOUTHERN STA BOENES IN THE SOUTHERN STATE Illustration given below represents one of which, we regret to say, are of too frequent ocor Southern States of America since the enforced emane slaves. Infuriated slaveholders, with their overteers, entrance to the cabins of their former slaves, and selves of all property therein, on the score that it is owners of the estates whereon the slaves reside. The however, have adopted such energetic measures that holders are completely cowed, and Sambo, his wife, a now remain unmolested in their own cabins.

LYNCH LAW IN ILLINOIS.
About half-past ten on Wednesday night, May 31, congregated at our Court-house, and demanded the gaol. As the sheriff, though somewhat frightened, liver them, an entrance was forced, and the wound bushwhacker, or, as he says, commissioned captain in rate army. Thomas Rose, was selzed, and, still blee wounds received but a few hours before in his car through the streets about a mile out to the prairie. To stand, and well aware that his last hour was come,

